WISH SUIT TO LIMIT SHERMAN ACT

Steamship Companies Are Not Alarmed Over Order Closing Ports

Foreign Concerns Do Not Think They Are Affected by Statute

NEW YORK, Jan 5.—No alarm was felt in local shipping circles concerning the suit instituted by the United States government to close American ports to the vessels of the thirteen defendant trans Atlantic steamship companies comprising the Atlantic conference so long as they continue an alleged agreement to apportion all traffic prorata and destroy the competition of competitors engaged in the steerage traffic between the United States and Europe

In a statement issued by the officers of the Hamburg-American line today it is explained that the suit is welcomed with confidence that the Sherman act under which the action is brought, will be declared inapplicable to foreign companies

DESIRED LEGAL ACTION.

"The foreign companies themselves" reads the statement, 'desired a legal action for the purpose of testing whether the American anti-trust law affects their position They are convinced that the suit will serve only to clear up that situation and prove that the law is inapplicable and thus put an end to the agitation of competing companies who are the sole instigators of the movement'

The statement concludes 'Leading American lawyers are of the opinion that such an extension of the Sherman law to foreign companies is impossible Otherwise the American anti trust law could be applied to all foreign manufacturers who export to the United States and are members of an syndicate

ILLEGAL CONTRACT

The companies the government charges, entered into an illegal contract February 5 1908 at London, England by which they constituted themselves the Atlantic Conference with power to apportion all traffic pro rata impose heavy fines on members of the conference for violation of any article of agreement and wage competition against all lines outside the conference As a result it is alleged the Russian volunteer fleet plying between New York and Libau was driven out of business and the Russian-American line was forced to make terms with the conference and enter its membership

SWEEPING CHARGE FILED

Suit was brought by Henry A. Wise United States district attorney acting under instructions from Attorney-General Wickersham In its petition the government prays the court to enjoin the defendants from further agreeing combining and conspiring to injure or destroy the business of any person or corporation engaged in the business of carrying steerage passengers between points in the United States and Europe

'Further that each every and all of the defendant steamship lines be forbidden either to enter or clear any of

PRESENTED BALDWIN AS HER SPOUSE

Mrs. Turnbull Declares She Was Known to Turf Magnate's Friends as Wife

Woman Released by Attorneys for Estate After Holding Her Own for Days

LOS ANGELES Jan 5—Remarkably buoyant and fresh after the grilling cross examination she endured yesterday Mrs Lillian Turnbull resumed the stand today and held her own against the attorneys who are opposing the contest of her daughter to obtain $2 500 000 of the late Lucky Baldwin's estate

Under the questions of the cross examiner she recalled not only a number of persons to whom the turfman introduced her as his wife but she remembered at least two to whom she had introduced him as her husband

MENTIONS NAMES

Mr Baldwin introduced me as Mrs Baldwin to Charles Fair and a milliner named Ray Wilson said Mrs Turnbull and then she startled the counsel for the estate by remarking that she had not named either Fair or the milliner because her own attorneys had told her not to mention them until the cross examiner asked the question

Gavin McNab who conducted the cross-examination followed up this information with a query whether she had remembered the introduction to Fair only after she had a conference in San Francisco last week with a Mr Blazer, who was private secretary to the Comstock millionaire before his death

MAKES DENIAL

Mrs Turnbull denied this emphatically though when the opposing side showed a surprising familiarity with her movements in San Francisco she admitted she had conferred with Col Henry I Kowalsky and a number of others while in the north

With that the attorneys for the estate relinquished the witness after a cross-examination lasting in all nearly seven days

Dr J W Trueworthy, whom Mrs Turnbull said attended her at the birth of her child was called to the stand as the next witness Dr Trueworthy stated that he had been for years the physician of E J Baldwin and had attended Mrs Turnbull in 1893 Mrs Turnbull has testified that she had told Dr Trueworthy that she had been married to Baldwin by contract

KOWALSKY SILENT

Colonel Kowalsky was awakened by his valet in his apartments at the Palace Hotel this morning and asked concerning Mrs Turnbull's visit

Yes said the Colonel 'I met Mrs Turnbull at the offices of Costello & Costello I am not at liberty to say just what transpired but will state that our conversation was with regard to different people who were living at the Baldwin Hotel about twenty years ago

I did not know Mrs Turnbull at that time but I was able to recall several names that she mentioned to me Several I could not recall '

'I went with her to the office of Dr

CLERK IN SHATTUCK HOTEL INJURED BY BIG TOURING CAR

MISS ADELE HORNE, one of the victims of joy riding autoists

JOY RIDERS LAUGH WHEN VICTIMS ARE HURLED IN GUTTER

Four Young Men Purposely Run Down Couple Riding on Motorcycle, Is Charge

The latest instance of reckless automobiling in Berkeley, justifying the stringent efforts of the police to stop the practice, took place yesterday afternoon on Grove street, near Channing way, Berkeley, when Mrs. Claire Sellinger, a young woman living at Thirty-eighth street and Telegraph avenue, Oakland, and Miss Adele Horne, employed in the office of the Hotel Shattuck, while riding tandem on a motorcycle, were run down and injured by an automobile carrying four youths.

The women were pitched from their seats on the motorcycle into the gutter and left stunned and bruised, the occupants of the auto continuing on their way toward Oakland at high speed, singing ribald songs and jeering at the unfortunate victims

The speed of the automobile was not slacked and the quartet, who are unknown, did not turn their heads to ascertain the seriousness of the accident. The motorcycle was wrecked

DELIBERATELY RUN DOWN

The victims declare that they were deliberately run down The men in the auto had shouted at them as they approached going in the same direction

Mrs Sellinger who was on the front seat made an effort to turn out of the way of the auto which was a big touring car running close to the curb

Mrs Sellinger had gone to the hotel and taken Miss Horne aboard the wheel for a spin into Oakland They had just turned into Grove street and were proceeding they declare at the rate of 13 miles an hour when the shouts of the automobilists attracted their attention The women paid no heed to the insults Mrs Sellinger making several attempts to give the auto a clear road

TRIED TO WRECK THEM

Each time the course of the motorcycle was changed the driver of the car veered likewise this action being accompanied by the taunts of the men in the machine

Finally near Channing way on the right side of the street the automobile traveling at high speed ran into the motorcycle smashing the rear wheel Mrs Sellinger was thrown off on one side and escaped with bruises but Miss Horne was pitched forward for some distance over the handle bars falling on her left shoulder and on the side of her head The shoulder was dislocated and she received a severe scalp wound

With dust in their eyes and covering their garments the women slowly got to their feet but by this time the auto had disappeared and they were unable to obtain its number

Miss Horne declared today that she believed some of the men in the automobile were intoxicated as indicated by their shouts and laughter but the driver was apparently in full control of the machine

"I believe that we were intentionally run down and both of us consider that we were fortunate to escape with our lives or without serious injury Neither of us will be brave enough to appear on streets again where automobiles are given free rein Something should be done to protect us

The complaint charges that the defendants "for some time have been engaged in the United States and particularly in the southern district of New York in an unlawful combination to restrain a part of the commerce of the United States with foreign nations '

APPORTIONMENT OF TRAFFIC

The apportionment of this commerce with the exception of traffice consisting of steerage passengers forwarded through the straits of Gibraltar is given by the government as follows
Westbound—Allan line 62 per cent Anchor line, 3 10 Cunard line 13 75 Hamburg-American 1 61 North German Lloyd, 26 58, Holland American 6 63 Red Star (), 9 71 White Star () 8 60, American (), 6 68, Dominion () 4 47 total, 100 per cent.
As a whole the contract has operated, it is charged to maintain rates at an artificial level to monopolize traffic at the highest net return possible and to deprive the public of the benefits that would naturally result from free competition All the competitive devices of the conference are alleged to be in full force at present against the Uranium Steamship Company which plies between New York and Rotterdam, touching at Halifax
The average number of immigrants for the last five years is given at 1 200 000, and the average number of annual immigrants for the same period at 500 000 The income from steerage rates the complaint says, is one of the most important parts of the defendant companies revenue

WAS INTRODUCED AS WIFE OF BALDWIN, SHE ASSERTS

Mrs. Turnbull Concludes Testimony in Contest for Estate of Eccentric Turfman and Millionaire

Noble in the Elkan Gunst building Dr. Noble was at that time resident physician at the Baldwin Hotel I am not familiar with what conversation took place between Dr Noble and Mrs Turnbull "

HE ADMITS IT.

It was rather a delicate question, but in view of the fact that Mrs Turnbull had stated on the witness chair at Los Angeles that the colonel was peacefully asleep during the interview, it was chanced
Well—er—Mrs Turnbull says you were asleep during the interview?'
There was so long a pause that the reporter feared the colonel had relapsed again but finally, after repeated hellos, the colonel's voice, pitched to a note of hurt pained confession, came wafting back
'It is barely possible I sometimes take advantage of a leisure moment to take a little knit at the reveled sleeve of care'
Dr J Albert Noble promptly admitted the visit of Mrs Turnbull
'Mrs Turnbull came to me in regard to my memory touching persons and incidents at the old Baldwin Hotel I was resident physician there The conversation was of a general nature"

GIRL IN CASE.

Yesterday for the first time, Beatrice Anita Turnbull was injected physically into the suit by which her mother, Lillian Turnbull, is seeking to recover for her $2 500,000 of the $12 000 000 estate of her reputed father, "Lucky" Baldwin
Hitherto during the proceedings the 7-year-old claimant has been kept in the background even excluded from the court room because of the character of the testimony Yesterday however, she was formally identified by her mother as the offspring of a contract marriage with the horseman
The case was resumed in Judge Rives' department of the superior court following an adjournment over the holidays, during which time Mrs Turnbull visited San Francisco to seek further testimony
Mrs Turnbull who had previously undergone five days of gruelling cross examination by the attorneys for the Baldwin heirs was again on the stand She surprised even her daughter's attorneys by saying she now remembered that the fact of her marriage to Baldwin was made known by the latter to his daughter Clara She said her memory had been refreshed by her holiday vacation and asked permission to make an explanation of her testimony given at the prior hearing when McNab asked her why she thought Mrs Clara Baldwin Harold knew that she was married to her father. A clash between Attorneys Grant and McEnerney followed the latter's objection to admitting this testimony, but Mrs Turnbull was finally allowed to proceed.

CIGARETTE DISCLOSES SECRET.

I told you, Mr McNab' said the witness, 'that I believed Clara knew that I was married to her father I could not tell you the reason of that impression but since court adjourned last week I have been endeavoring to remember
Now I recollect quite clearly It was after the dinner we had at the adobe house Clara had cut up oranges put cognac in them burnt it, then poured the liquor into cordial glasses and served it
I left the room shortly afterwards and went on the piazza Clara followed me out there and asked me to smoke a cigarette I told her I did not care to as I had never smoked She persuaded me to take a whiff of hers and at that time Mr Baldwin came out
'He was angry and turned to Clara and told her that he did not care what she did, but he would not permit his wife to smoke I looked surprised and he said 'I have told Clara all about it. I told her that we are married'
'Clara then replied Yes, father has told me all about it and I gave this dinner to you and father. I hope you enjoyed it'"
'Didn't Clara say to her father: 'Why, you'll go to the penitentiary for this' Didn't she say this was a case of too much stepmother?' inquired McNab.
"No sir," was the reply
"How far does your memory stretch, Mrs Turnbull?"

McNAB BLAMES COGNAC.

'My memory doesn't stretch, Mr McNab"
"Don't you think that the cognac had something to do with the subsequent events?" asked McNab
'I do not think so Mr Baldwin was a man who did not care what he did If he wanted to do a thing he simply did it '
"Even if it would put him in the penitentiary?' This question was left unanswered.
Here McNab started a grilling that reduced the witness to tears
'Why did you not remember this during the trial of your seduction suit four years ago or was it because you wanted the $75,000 too badly?' he shouted to her
My memory has been refreshed," she replied 'Besides at the trial I was not asked questions which involved the contract marriage. It should have been told But the lawyers were running the case I was a baby in their hands"
You were 28 years old retorted McNab Were you the same kind of baby that you were in the hands of Colonel Pope of Boston?"
Mrs Turnbull burst into tears, but quickly drying them she angrily replied 'You insult me"
At this stage Mrs Turnbull's attorneys objected to the nature of the questions being asked Mrs Turnbull
Well any one who suddenly remembers evidence, and such important evidence as this, at the last moment, is not entitled to perfumed cross examination' interrupted Garret McEnerney
'Well she is not getting it so proceed, gentlemen ' replied Judge Rives

KOWALSKY WAS ASLEEP.

Mrs Turnbull was examined about her recent trip to San Francisco and she was asked whom she saw there "She stated, and no objection was interposed by her attorneys, that she had seen Colonel Kowalsky Dr W Anderson and a Dr Noble, whose first name she did not recollect Considerable amusement was caused when Mrs Turnbull stated that though Kowalsky was present during her interview with Dr Noble he did not hear what had been said, as he was sound asleep
A man by the name of Blazer, whose first name Mrs Turnbull had forgotten but whom she identified as the secretary of the late Charles Fair was also seen by Mrs Turnbull on her recent trip to the north
The defendant's attorneys were anxious to ascertain whether she had met J T Fiske while in the north Mrs Turnbull admitted that she had seen him in Mr Dockweiler's office, but had not conversed with him
When Mrs Turnbull testified that she had met H C Wyatt when she and Mr Baldwin were visiting at the Hotel Oakwood, remarks were made by the attorneys for the defense that Mrs Turnbull was testifying in regard to more dead people who could not verify her statements She claimed that she and Mrs Wyatt's box at the Los Angeles theater
Well Mrs Wyatt was also along" said the witness and I remember her distinctly because she kept telling me of their beautiful home in Garvanza
Mrs Wyatt is at present in New York where she was for several years prior to her husband's death

LAWMAKERS BEGIN TO LABOR IN EARNEST

CAMINETTI MAKES FIRST BIG FIGHT

Man From Amador Objects Strenuously to Patronage Awarded Him.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—The first fight of the session in the Senate was brought on by the discovery by Senator Caminetti of Amador county that he had been allowed patronage to the amount of $1.50 a day. The discovery was made when the names of a number of attaches were read for appointment. Caminetti repudiated the patronage, declared he would have none of it and wanted to know who was responsible for the bestowal of the morsel.

This called on Senator Roseberry of Santa Barbara to explain. The latter declared that the Republican caucus had decided to allow the minority or the nine Democrats in the Senate three stenographers, each stenographer to receive $5 a day.

HEARS THE NEWS.

Caminetti did not arrive in the Senate until after this allowance had been made and had not been informed of the transaction. Continuing his objections, he demanded to be informed as to who had presumed to represent him in a transaction of the kind and his brought out explanations from Senators Sanford and Curtin which did not altogether satisfy the man from Amador.

Caminetti then wanted the names of the attaches to be voted on one at a time, but, after a wrangle and a suspension of the rule governing in the premises, the request was denied. When informed that the allowance of three stenographers was a concession to the minority, Caminetti caused considerable amusement by declaring that he was not a member of the minority.

Senator Cutten wanted to know if Caminetti could be a member of the majority and minority at the same time. This aroused the ire of the Amador man. "I am not in the minority," he said. "I ask no favor. I want no person to give me $1.50 in petty patronage. I repudiate it. You have got to cut out that $1.50 so far as it is credited to me. It was done without my consent. You are appointing a number of sergeants-at-arms—more than enough to run the Senate. The machine of the olden time did not do any worse and yet you are reformers. Don't charge any of it to me."

HOLOHAN AGREES.

Senator Holohan said he agreed with Caminetti on the amount of the patronage being inadequate to the Democratic members.

Senator Cutten answered Caminetti's charge about the multiplicity of the sergeants-at-arms by showing that among those whose names as attaches were read out there were only six who were connected with the office of the sergeant-at-arms and that number was the smallest force that had ever been used to perform the work.

Caminetti's protest against the patronage was filed. This was followed up by declination on his part to serve as a member of the committee on judiciary and his request to be excused from acting on that committee, was granted by Lieutenant Governor Wallace, who was in the chair.

LAW TO PROHIBIT ORAL BETTING, PLAN

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5. — Senator George S. Walker of San Jose will introduce amendments to the law prohibiting betting on the races so as to effectually stop oral betting. One of his amendments will make owners of the property where betting is done liable for the penalty, and he believes that this provision will tend to insure observance of the law.

Walker, before presenting his amendments, will await the arrival of former Assemblyman Frank Otis of Alameda, who in the last legislature was joint author with Walker of the anti-betting bill that was passed.

CAPITAL MANSION MAY BE CLOSED

Mrs. Johnson Finds the Place Uninhabitable; Bat Plague Infests Premises.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—As the result of an inspection of the gubernatorial mansion by an unofficial committee of the house Governor Johnson may remain, with his family, indefinitely at a Sacramento hotel. The committee, consisting of Assemblymen Cattell, Chandler, Mott and Cogswell, with Mrs. Johnson, visited the mansion with a view to deciding whether it is at present habitable for the governor's family.

While no formal verdict was returned, the general opinion was that the house will not be a desirable place of residence without considerable repairs. The Gillette have been annoyed by a plague of bats, which still persist, finding access in some yet undiscovered place. A fissure divides the walls and ceilings on all floors, the plumbing is unsatisfactory and general repairs are needed.

LEGISLATURE AWAITS ACTION ON BIG FAIR

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—Until action is taken in Washington upon the matter of the indorsement of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition it is improbable that any action will be taken in the assembly to pass an enabling act providing for the terms and conditions under which the proceeds of the $5,000,000 tax levy shall be turned over to the exposition management.

It is known that attempts have been made to frame the act so that the money will be turned over on the condition that it will not be spent with discriminat on as to the employment of labor. An open shop is wanted by many, and on that point the San Francisco delegation expects a hard fight.

MAJOR F. F. CANNON TO ASSIST FORBES

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5. — Colonel Forbes, who was yesterday made adjutant-general, said last night that Major F. F. Cannon of the Second Infantry, National Guard of California, would be appointed assistant adjutant-general.

Cannon is a clerk in the office of Controller Nye, at a salary of $1600 per year. When he becomes assistant adjutant-general he will acquire the rank of colonel and will draw a salary of $3000 a year.

Captain Jacob Alexander, who has been a clerk under General Lauck, is slated to go, as he is not in touch with the new regime. Howard S. McIntyre, who has been chief clerk, will hold on.

RETURNS TO PLEASANTON TO ENGAGE IN BUSINESS

PLEASANTON, Jan. 5.—John Viera a former resident of Pleasanton, has returned to engage in business here. Viera was located here for some time fourteen years ago, but went to Ceres, Stanislaus county, about 1903 and has been pursuing his business of stock dealing there until lately. He has now returned to his old location and intends remaining here.

It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. JUDGE WORKS MAINTAINS STRICT SILENCE AT CAPITAL

Los Angeles Candidate Refuses to Explain Alleged Repudiation of Primary Law Provision

(Special to TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—Judge Works has established headquarters in the Sacramento Hotel. His stay will be indefinite. Several attempts have been made by newspaper men to get from him an expression as to why he is making a canvass which they claim repudiates the provisions of the primary law, but without success.

He says that he has views of his own on the subject but that he does not desire to discuss the question. He bases his declination to speak on the subject on the ground that he does not wish to be understood as trying to instruct members of the legislature as to how they should vote in the coming senatorial election.

A member of the assembly this morning, after having been introduced to Judge Works, said:

THROWING VOTE AWAY.

"I want to be as reasonable as possible but I feel that I would be throwing my vote away if I should cast it for Judge Works. He seems to be a fine man, but that is all that I can say for him. He is not the man who should represent California in the United States senate. I feel that we should have a man in that body who would be felt there. It does not require that a man should be eloquent or wealthy. It does not require that he should have the graces of a Brummel. It simply requires the senator to have the breeziness of California in his manners and his disposition. Viewed from my standpoint, Judge Works is wanting in those essentials."

VIEW WIDESPREAD.

This view is that of a number of other members of both houses who have been importuned to cast their vote for the man from Los Angeles.

These men are being asked day and night to cast their votes for Works, and some of them declare that they feel they will not be treated as well as they would like to be treated in the disposition of committees, in the event of their refusing point blank to support the judge.

The committees in the assembly have not yet been announced and it is not positively known when that announcement will be made. At the present time, there is a feeling that they may not be announced before Friday, or perhaps Saturday, because they fear that there may be a session of the lower house on the last-mentioned day. This would be a radical departure from the custom of long standing, viz., of having no session on the first Saturday of the session, a custom which the senate has already agreed to respect.

IN FRIENDS' HANDS.

Judge Works is apparently in the hands of his friends or, rather, as a member of the senate put it, "in front of a push of as sordid a character as was ever charged up to what was styled the old regime."

He talks guardedly, as if under instruction to say nothing without consulting some other person. He declares he does not know how many votes have been secured in his behalf. He declares that he is informed that there are a certain number of votes pledged to him and that there is a fair, yes, more than a fair, chance of his election. But in making this admission he wants it to be distinctly understood that the real figures are in the possession of some other person. This is regarded as a most remarkable statement by those who have knowledge of senatorial contests.

MAKES IT WARM.

Senator Wright, who is most active in the campaign of A. G. Spalding for senator, also, has been making things warm for Works here since he arrived on the scene. In speaking to a TRIBUNE correspondent today Wright said he hoped Judge Works would explain why he was, in effect, in his candidacy, throwing down the primary law, and why he is doing it in face of the fact that, at San Diego, during the campaign he gave expression to the sentiment that he did not want a vote which was not authorized by the primary law. Speaking on this point today, Senator Wright said:

"In the city of San Diego, my home city, during the last campaign, Judge Works, in a letter to me said: 'I desire to stand or fall by the advisatory vote of the people at the primary election.' I say to you now, as between me and any candidate before the people, I neither expect nor desire a vote from you not authorized by the votes of the people.'

"Now," continued the senator, "I take Mr. Works to be a man of his word and that he is of the same opinion now as when he made use of those words several months ago. When he wrote that letter, he emphatically stated that he did not desire or expect any vote that was not authorized by the people under the primary law.

HAS NO EXPECTATIONS.

"I take it, therefore, that Mr. Works does not expect or desire to be elected to the United States senatorship.

"At a political meeting held in San Diego county, Works indorsed Spalding in most unmistakable language. I commend it to the consideration of all interested in the election of an able and fearless man to the United States senate. I quote from Mr. Works' speech:

"'I understand that you have a candidate in this county, Mr. A. G. Spalding, a clean, fearless, honest man. . . . If Mr. Spalding receives the highest vote in this county, as I presume he will, I will not ask Mr. Sloane for his support. I would not think much of him if he did vote for me under those conditions.'"

The Sloane referred to was a candidate for state senator in San Diego against Senator Wright at the last election.

In response to a number of questions propounded to Judge Works by the representative of THE TRIBUNE, the senatorial candidate said:

FOR FIRST BALLOT.

"I do not know how long I shall remain here. I remain till the close of the senatorial campaign and I may not. I shall be here at least until the first ballot is taken. I am of the opinion that I have a fair, very fair, chance of election. do not know the number of votes which are now agreed upon to be cast for me, but am told by persons who are informed in the matter that there are enough to elect me.

"I do not desire to go into a discussion of the right of a person to cast a vote for me in this campaign. That is a matter on which I must keep silent. I do not want to interfere with performance of his duty on the part of any member of the legislature. That is a matter for him to be guided in by his conscience. As a candidate, I should not want to appear as deciding for him or them as to whom he or they should support. The statement to which you refer as having been made by Senator Wright refers to the then condition of San Diego and cannot apply to the present campaign."

SILENCE HELD AS PROOF.

Senator Wright, however, maintains that his statement does most emphatically refer to the present situation, and that Works' silence proves that it does.

There is considerable reason to believe, at this time, that Works will be jammed through the legislature, a number of Spalding's friends regretting that he had declined to appear on the scene. However, the representatives of the man from San Diego are working with persistency in his behalf.

There is some interest felt here as to how the Alameda county delegation will vote in the premises. There is a certainty, at this time, that at least a majority of the votes, namely six, will be cast for Works. There is a probability that that number will be increased before the election takes place.

PLANS MEASURE TO AID SMALL BANKS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—Slight modifications in the banking act are to be proposed by Assemblyman Lawrence Wilson of Winters, which will be appreciated by the officers of small country banks. He is of the opinion that the officers of a bank should be permitted to borrow limited sums from their institution with the consent of the board of directors.

The amendment is designed to aid the country bankers in towns where there is only one or a limited number of banks. They will be allowed to borrow up to $1000 or some amount of about that proportion.

Wilson's reason for offering this legislation is that many of the officers of banks in small towns are inconvenienced in carrying on their business because of the present prohibition in the law.

OBJECTED TO WIFE'S REGULAR LONG FACE

Ethel E. Fink returned home one evening and found the following note from her husband, Samuel Fink:

"Dear Wife: I cannot and will not live in your house. It is rather unpleasant for me to come home and see everyone with a long face, just as if I was in the way."

By "everyone" Fink referred to his wife's family, Mrs. Fink testified in her suit for a divorce on the ground of desertion. Superior Judge Ellsworth granted her an interlocutory decree late yesterday afternoon.

ALAMEDA COUNTY SOLONS HEAD COMMITTEES

Stetson, Tyrrell, Strobridge and Hans Have Much to Deal With.

FOUR ARE MEMBERS OF VARIOUS BOARDS

"San Francisco Delegation" Thing of Past in State Senate.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—The committees of the senate have been appointed and the senators from Alameda county have been given chairmanships on some of the most prominent of them as well as membership on others which will have important matters to deal with. The chairmanships are as follows: Judiciary, Senator Stetson, banking, Senator Tyrrell; education, Senator Strobridge; printing, Senator Hans.

The other committees on which the senators have membership are as follows:

Stetson—Corporations, fish and game, hospitals and asylums, municipal corporations, public health and quarantine, apportionment and representation.

Tyrrell—Election and election laws, judiciary, fish and game, prison and reformatories and printing.

Strobridge—Agriculture, executive communications, apportionment, finance, fish and game and prisons and reforms.

Hans—Corporations, drainage, swamp and overflowed lands, manufactures and municipal corporations.

IMPORTANCE DIFFERS.

There is a radical difference in the importance of the chairmanships given Senators Stetson and Strobridge this year as compared with those which the same senators were awarded two years ago. At that time the chairmanship held by Senator Stetson was that on public buildings and grounds, while that held by Senator Strobridge was of the engrossment and enrollment committee. At that session Senators Tyrrell and Hans were not members of the body.

ABOLISH DELEGATION.

This year the committee which heretofore has been known as the San Francisco delegation in the senate has been abolished. This was not done with any lack of respect to the delegates from the metropolis, but to discourage the demands for the formation of similar committees from other counties and cities throughout the state, as it was understood that Los Angeles and Oakland contemplated asking for the creation of a committee composed exclusively of delegates from each of those cities.

There has also been a consolidation of the committees on agriculture and vine interests.

In the assembly the committees have not as yet been formed, but it is known that there are to be several new ones created. In that body there is a committee composed of the Los Angeles delegation and that will not be interfered with as was the case in the senate.

The new committees are those of the Northern California delegation, conservation, direct legislation, civil service reform, re-apportionment, revision of criminal procedure and the Alameda county delegation. F. M. Smith of Oakland seeks the chairmanship of the committee on municipal corporations.

It is known that the committee which is to make the report on the committees is to recommend that no committee, as such, go on a junketing tour to visit any state institution, that such a visitation be made by not more than three members, and that such be ordered by not less than a two-thirds vote of the assembly.

BILLS AFFECTING OAKLAND TO BE INTRODUCED

Assemblymen Callaghan and Fitzgerald at Work On New Measures.

DEPUTIES' BONDS MAY BE REQUIRED

Public Work by Citizens of the Country Will Be Asked by Alameda Solon.

(Special to TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5. — Assemblyman Callaghan is preparing a number of bills which he proposes to introduce early in the session. Some of the measures will be of importance to the city of Oakland and will be devised with a view to aiding her in making some of the great improvements which are now in progress along the water front.

Assemblyman Fitzgerald, from the same place is also working on bills which will be introduced at the earliest opportunity. One of these will require deputy sheriffs who are not under pay as such officials to furnish the same amount of bonds as are now required of paid deputies. It will also insist upon constables who are not under pay save when performing some official act to give the same bonds as do the regular deputy constables.

BADGE AS PROTECTION.

Fitzgerald holds that there are a great number of such officers in Alameda and other counties and that in many instances not a few of them use their offices for the purpose of unnecessarily harassing people under the protection which is given them by a badge of office. He says that a number of such instances have been brought to his attention in Alameda county and there is no doubt in his mind that there are many similar cases in all the counties in the State. At the same time the men who annoy innocent debtors escape jury duty and enjoy other privileges unknown to the ordinary civilian.

PUBLIC WORKS BILL.

Another bill which Fitzgerald will file will be one prohibiting the performance of public work by other than citizens of this country. Fitzgerald's address in this city is 1817 Eighth street.

At this writing the Senate is three days ahead of where it was two years ago on the fifth day of the session, the work of organizing this far completed, not having been reached at the last session until the second week of the meeting.

It is likely that that body will be ready for the introduction of bills tomorrow. When it has been decided to allow measures to be introduced, Senator Stetson will telegraph City Clerk Thompson of Oakland to bring the newly-adopted charter of that city here for ratification. He desires the ratification to be done at the earliest possible moment.

THUGS HOLD UP AND ROB VICTIM

Fought Desperately, But Was Beaten Into Insensibility.

With his month's wages in his pocket Ira Wright E. H. Smith, a salesman for the Oliver and Chase company, started for his home last evening and was waylaid by two robbers in Clinton park, beaten into insensibility and left bruised and wounded under a tree in the park. The attack occurred early last evening, but it was not until an hour after the holdup that Smith recovered consciousness and made his way from the park. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where his wounds were dressed and then removed to his home at 1312 Thirteenth street. The amount stolen was $66 in addition to some jewelry and a watch.

Smith left the store about 5:30. At Second avenue and Twelfth street he noticed two men walking ahead of him. They walked into the park just ahead of Smith, and when about the middle of the park the taller of the two turned and asked him the time. As he started to reply the man struck him a glancing blow on the side of his head.

FOUGHT DESPERATELY.

Closing with the tall thug, Smith landed a blow to the jaw but was jolted away by the shorter man. At the same moment the tall robber cut Smith on the right side of the jaw with a clasp knife, and followed this up with several slashes in which he upper open his shirt, cut his collar, his vest and the sleeve of his coat, but failed to inflict any deep wounds.

"Don't cut him up," called the short thief. "He may bleed to death and we don't want any murder charge against us." As he spoke he struck Smith a heavy blow with some blunt weapon, felling him to the ground. The next thing Smith knew was almost an hour later when he found himself lying on his back in the park, his pockets turned inside out and his head and body badly bruised.

DESCRIPTION OF MEN.

The following description is given of his assailants, who were dressed rather poorly and spoke like uneducated men. The taller man was about six feet in height, about 28 years of age, slender build, smooth shaven, and wore a dark suit of clothes and a dark hat. The shorter man was about 30 years of age, was short and stout, smooth shaven, wore a dark suit of clothes and black derby hat. The men were not masked and apparently carried no revolvers.

MRS. MORRELL GETS DECREE.

Alice Morrell has been granted a final decree of divorce in the superior court from Arthur Morrell because two days after their marriage he began to beat her and kept the operation up intermittently as long as she lived with him. The wife also told the court that Morrell installed another woman in their home.

WOMAN TELLS STORY OF INTENSE SUFFERING

At the age of about 40 years, I was attacked with hemorrhage of the kidneys or bladder, which continued for several years without a check. I finally took advantage of your generous offer and procured a sample bottle of Swamp-Root. Believing it helped me, I purchased a fifty-cent bottle, which convinced me that it was helping me. Three other bottles cured me. In two or three years, over-work brought my ailment back, but one bottle stopped it.

I feel as if I owe my life to you for the great blessing Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root has been to me. I recommend it to all human beings suffering as I was. You have my permission to publish this letter, and if any person doubts it, if they will write me, enclosing stamp, I will give full particulars.

Yours very truly,
MRS. T. B. PHELPS,
Rocky, Ark.

Personally appeared before me this 31st day of August, 1909, Mrs. T. B. Phelps, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.
L. P. PURVIS, J. P.

MAY BUILD STEAMSHIPS WITHOUT SMOKESTACKS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A new method of driving trans-Atlantic ships is about to be tried by a prominent ship company, according to consular reports. The new vessel will be unique in design in that the steam boilers and external chimneys are to be done away with.

In their places two oil burning engines of the explosive type developing 1500 horsepower and making 120 revolutions per minute are to furnish the means of locomotion.

The external appearance of these engines will not differ greatly from that of the steam engines.

SIR COLLINS DIES.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Right Hon. Sir Richard Collins, Lord Collins, who was created a life peer in 1907, died yesterday.

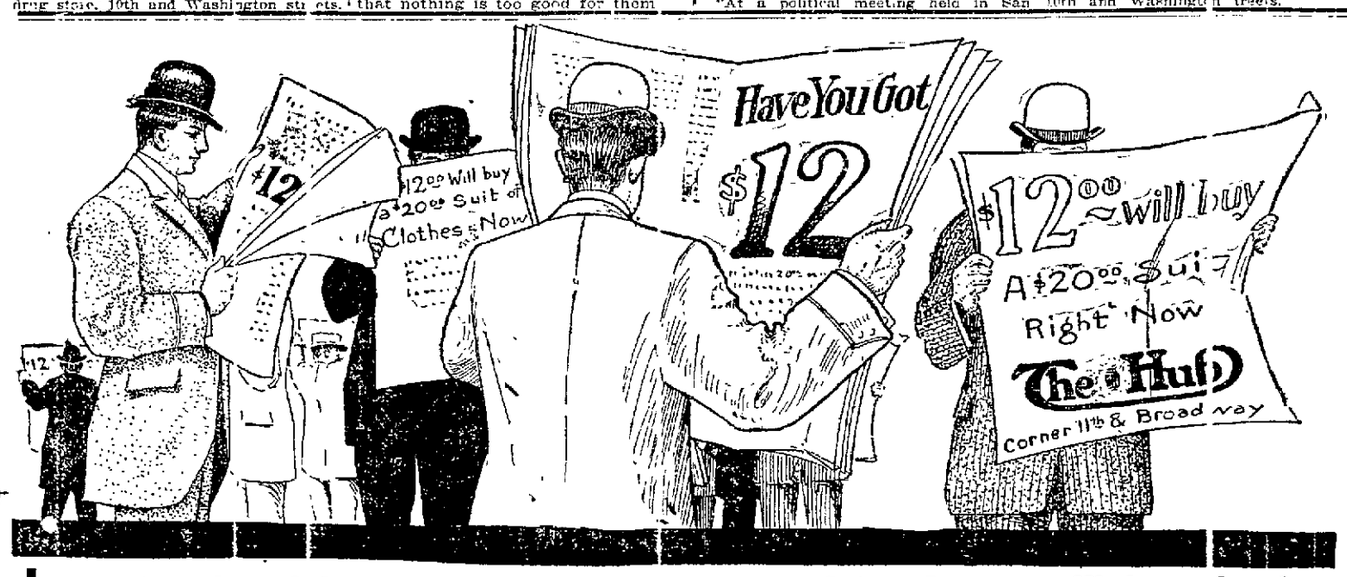

PROOF THAT PROVES

If one person more than another should know the value of medicine, it is the retail druggist.

Therefore when ten thousand retail druggists of the United States recommend Vinol, the delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, as the best strengthening tonic known, and are willing to return their customers' money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction, there can be no room for doubt.

Among others, one of the most reliable druggists of Lynn, Mass., Mr. Warren Toppan says, "From personal experience I know what Vinol will do. I had a chronic cold all winter, and was so weak I could hardly get about. Nothing seemed to help me until I tried Vinol; the change was magic-like and what surprised me most, Vinol not only cured the cold but built me up and cured me of a severe stomach trouble that had bothered me for twenty years. Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine." (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine).

We ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person, or any person suffering from chronic coughs and colds to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Cal.

Communication with the disturbed section is still impossible and the government has no advices today substantiating the latest alarming reports

SHOCKS CONTINUE

TASHKENT, Asiatic Russia Jan 5—Violent earth shocks continued at intervals yesterday at Kopal Vorny and other places in the government of Semiryetchensk but they were not so destructive as those of the early morning hours when many buildings were destroyed

Unofficial reports say that hundreds of persons have been killed or wounded and that the distress of the refugees is terrible owing to the destruction of the heating apparatus in the houses and the intense cold which prevails Governor General Folbaum reports that a thousand families are without shelter

Many soldiers have been injured and nearly every house in and around the town including the public schools and the governor's residence, have been damaged

The loss however is less serious than that occasioned by the earthquake in 1887 because many of the stone buildings were replaced by buildings of wood

LaFollette Tells of Bribe Offered Gore

Relates at Hearing How Blind Senator Told Him of Offers

WASHINGTON Jan 5—Despite the protests of the attorneys for J F McMurray an Oklahoma lawyer Senator Gore succeeded in having Senator La Follette put on the stand today before the special investigating committee appointed by the house

LaFollette testified that Senator Gore had told him early in May before the latter's disclosure to the senate that Jacob Hamon had offered him a money consideration if he would let up in his opposition to the McMurray Indian land contracts

Senator Gore told me that a man named Hamon had called on him in his office said Senator LaFollette and had offered him a money consideration my recollection that it was $25 000 or $30 000—if he would let up in his opposition to the McMurray contracts

'Did senator Gore say at this time whether it was a cash or a contingent offer?' asked one of McMurray's attorneys

'I understand it was contingent on his letting up in his opposition to the McMurray contracts' said Senator La Follette.

Statement of Oakland Bank of Savings Shows Healthy Growth of Local Institution

TOTAL DEPOSITS AT FIRST OF YEAR $19,610,794

Efforts of Capable Directors Responsible for Remarkable Increase.

PRESIDENT GARTHWAITE RULES WISELY AT HEAD

Trust Department Added to Other Facilities in Past Six Months.

Attention is called to the splendid statement of the Oakland Bank of Savings at the close of the year 1910 which appears elsewhere in today's TRIBUNE.

The bank was organized in 1867 Its total deposits at the beginning of the year 1868 amounted to only $65 656 but they continued to grow steadily from that time on annually save in the years of financial panic when a decline was invariably visible in the record

At the opening of the year 1907 the bank reached the high watermark in its history up to that time when the deposits aggregated $18 990 104 The panic of the latter part of 1907 caused the deposits to fall to $17 859 777 as shown in the statement of January 1 1908, and the depression of the latter year caused a further falling off the deposits on January 1 1909 being reduced to $16 806 525

CONFIDENCE RESTORED

During the year 1909 public confidence was largely restored and the deposits in the bank rose to $18,199 113 at the close of the year's business

The year 1910 has been an unusually prosperous one to the bank and to the community as is shown in the statement of January 1 1911 The total deposits at that date amounted to $19 610 794, or an increase of $1 500 000 over the record of January 1 1910 and over $600 000 in excess of the record of January 1 1908 This increase is the more noteworthy from the fact that the savings banks of the eastern cities particularly of New York county all show a decrease in the amount of their deposits

HOLDS FIRST PLACE

The Oakland Bank of Savings has always held the first place among the banking institutions of this city and it stands essentially for conservation and strength

Within the past six months the Oakland Bank of Savings has taken over the business of the Bankers Trust Company adding a trust department to its other banking facilities The total assets of the corporation are now $21 686 506 89 thus ranking with the largest and strongest banks on the Pacific coast

The principal officers and directors of the Oakland Bank of Savings have been connected with the institution many years Vice President Henry Rogers has been associated with it for over forty years W W Garthwaite its president has been connected with the bank for thirty eight years and J Y Eccleston the cashier and secretary, for eighteen years

GROWTH DUE TO EFFORT

The steady and gratifying growth of the bank has indeed been due to the well known ability and integrity of its officers and directors consisting of the following

W W Garthwaite president W B Dunning vice president, Henry Rogers vice president J Y Eccleston cashier and secretary Samuel Breck assistant cashier E A Alardt assistant cashier Leslie F Rice assistant cashier J A Thomson assistant secretary A E Caldwell assistant secretary Directors—M L Requa Geo H Collins, Horace Davis Arthur H Breed W B Dunning Henry Rogers James K Moffitt A Borland J P Idoff J Y Eccleston and W W Garthwaite

MRS. GOMES ASKS FOR ANNULMENT

Declares Divorce Was Result of Collusion With Her Husband.

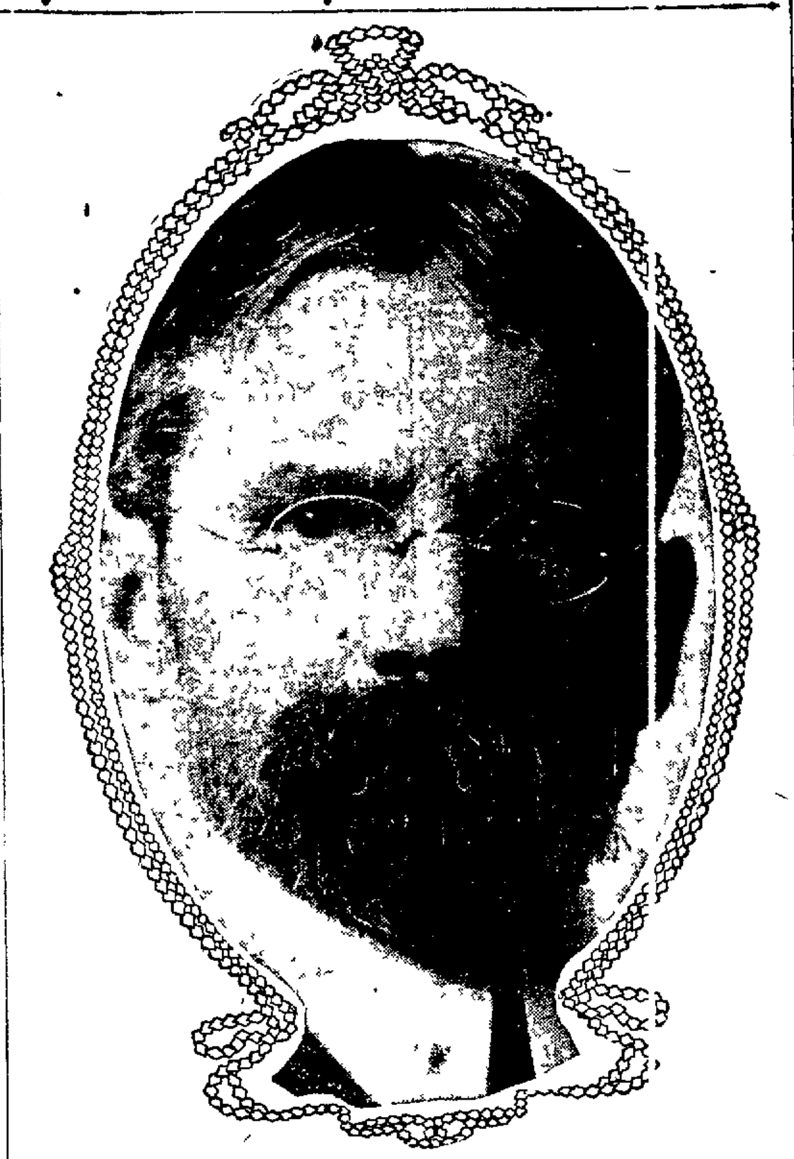

Bertha Maud Gomes daughter of T A Street of Hayward from whom Frank S Gomes obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce in the Superior Court on the 19th day of last September for infidelity and desertion filed an affidavit today asking that the decree be set aside on the ground that there was collusion between them to break their nuptual contract she agreeing to confess to the infidelity and desertion on terms which Gomes has failed to keep

According to Mrs Gomes affidavit Gomes agreed to let her have the custody of their adopted child if she would let him get the divorce but that when the case came on for hearing after her default Gomes went on the witness stand and swore that the adopted child was his own issue and secured its custody Had it not been for this the affiant declares she would have allowed the divorce to stand Now however she wants the case reopened so that she may put in a defense and try for a divorce on a cross complaint together with the custody of the child

Mrs Gomes also says that her father helped her and Gomes to carry out the agreement for the divorce by giving to Gomes on behalf of his daughter what purported to be her confession that she had been unfaithful to him and had left him forever

another demanding that Congress call a convention for the purpose of amending the constitution to provide for election of United States Senators by popular vote also were in the Senator's list The latter resolution was introduced by Senator Sanford in 1903 and passed but for technical reasons it is thought it will be necessary to introduce the present one If three other states take like action the Senator said Congress will have to call the convention

Most of the bills outlined in conference held in San Francisco preceding the legislature were ready for introduction at the afternoon session

DELEGATION ESTABLISHED

An amendment to the Senate rules establishing the San Francisco delegation as a standing committee was presented today by Senator Thompson of Alhambra and adopted The delegation has been recognized as an official committee heretofore

A concurrent resolution by Senator Wolfe of San Francisco disclosed the fact that if Mayor McCarthy of that city goes to Washington again to work for the Panama canal he forfeits his office under a provision of the charter forbidding the Mayor to leave the city more than once in his term.

Mayor McCarthy already has used up this one trip, and wishes to go again The resolution gives approval of the Senate to an amendment to the charter approved by the Board of Supervisors, which will allow him to do so It was ordered printed without reference to the committee.

The appointments of Chester Rowell of Fresno to be regent of the State University and George M Hill of Alameda to be member of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners were offered to the Senate in an executive message for confirmation. The afternoon session was scheduled for 3 o'clock

SACRAMENTO Jan 5—Introduction of bills generally regarded as the beginning of real legislative work was scheduled to begin in the senate today Nevertheless efforts to decide upon a successful candidate for the United States senatorship seemed to hold high place in the interest of the legislators The adherents of Judge John D Works continued to insist upon victory for their candidate early in the balloting

Supporters of A G Spalding who expected a telegram in reply to one sent last night again urging him to come to Sacramento said at 10 a m that no reply had been received They continue to hope that he will alter his declaration not to appear

Among the bills scheduled for introduction in the senate is one by Senator Wright intended to take the judiciary out of politics It provides for a court commission of five members not more than three of the same political party to be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate and having sole authority to appoint, by majority vote, all judges in the state, including justices of the peace subject to senate confirmation Members of the commission under the bill would hold office for ten years one member retiring every two years

CHESTER ROWELL NAMED

Governor Johnson today appointed Chester Rowell of Fresno regent of the State University The appointment was one of those made by Governor Gillett January and withdrawn from senate consideration by Governor Johnson yesterday

The house began this morning its consideration of the proposed new rules reported by Chairman Fleisher of the rules committee

An extended debate followed the offering of an amendment to the rule covering the substitution of bills by Assemblyman Schmitt The present rule provides that a senate bill may be substituted for an assembly bill by a major ity vote Schmitt's amendment requires the consent of the author of the bill for the substitution

Important changes in the rules which will be discussed are dobying creation of new committees and investigation trips by members

It is not thought that the introduction of bills in the house will begin before Saturday

DENIED RECOGNITION

By a favorable vote on an amendment proposed by Assemblyman Cattell the San Francisco Northern California Alameda and Los Angeles delegations were refused recognition as committees

A half hours debate followed an amendment offered by Assemblyman March to strike out the provision for a committee on the revision of criminal procedure Assemblyman Presler Coghlan Schmitt and Keloe favored the creation of the committee Cronin Bearty Brown and Black opposed it on the grounds that revision of the criminal procedure should properly be referred to the judiciary committee

By a vote of 54 to 23 it was voted to retain the committee

The rule preventing standing committees from visiting state institutions was adopted

The new committees established parallel closely the pledges of the Republican platform increasing conservation direct legislation reapportionment and revision of criminal procedure

The report of the rules committee was adopted with the exception of a minor provision which will be considered this afternoon

ants and to direct legislation to their own ends

'This usurpation of power can be ended only by the people taking into their own hands the direction and control of their government The first step is to abolish the boss and all his agencies—the caucus the nominating convention and all political machinery which intervenes between the people and the government All candidates for public office without exception must be chosen by the people through the direct primary To that direct primary must be joined the power of recall so that any public servant who proves recreant to his trust may be immediately dismissed

WOULD EXEMPT LABOR

Governor Foss said that labor should be exempt from unfair injunction restrictions that the compensation of labor should be above a bare living and the hours of labor should be rigidly defined and limited

Home rule for cities was advocated and the recommendation was made that all municipalities within a radius of ten miles be consolidated into a greater Boston organized on the borough plan

The use of money in our elections has become a great evil said the governor for it amounts to a substantial denial of the privilege of a man of moderate means to aspire to any public office in the commonwealth or else it overwhelmingly tempts him to make his secret peace with those private interests which will finance his campaign if he will serve them in office To correct this evil it is necessary to prohibit this method of campaigning which cost so much money

The governor recommended legislation calling for the popular nomination of United States senators

DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR

AUGUSTA Me Jan 5—Frederick Plaisted of this city took the oath of office in the hall of representatives today and is now the governor of Maine the first Democrat to hold the office in 30 years or since the completion of the term of his father the late General Harris M Plaisted

In his inaugural address Governor Plaisted urged the adoption of business methods in the administration of the affairs of the state the abolition of unnecessary offices and the consolidation of departments

Discussing the general subject of 'progressive legislation' the governor said

We are bound to enact a direct primary law Nominations for governor and representatives to congress may well be made by diplomacy In my opinion it would be unwise to go farther than that until the new system has been fairly tested

We shall without doubt join other states in asking for an amendment to the national constitution permitting the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people Pending the adoption of such an amendment I suggest the enactment of a law relating to the choice of senators similar to the one now in use in Oregon

WOULD-BE SUICIDE HELD ON QUEER COMPLAINT

Shooting Firearms in the City Limits Is Charge Filed Against Him.

LUDICROUS AND VERY PATHETIC LIFE STORY

Bullet Broke Window; Now Charged With Malicious Mischief.

Booked on charges of malicious mischief and shooting within the city limits, Louis Bennett, a young man of 20 years of age, son of a well-known business man of San Francisco, who attempted to commit suicide last night in a local shooting gallery, after a quarrel with his father, is being held at the city prison, pending the investigation as to the legal status of his case.

The case is one of the most pathetic and the most ludicrous that has come to the attention of the authorities. The young man, whose father had told him during the day that he hoped never to see him again, came to Oakland almost penniless, and spent his last dime to obtain three shots in Mrs. Bell's shooting gallery. He had come to Oakland so that his body would not be found in San Francisco and be identified by his parents. The bullet glanced on a rib just over the heart, inflicting a flesh wound, ranged across the street and broke a plate-glass window. For the breaking of this window he was arrested on a charge of malicious mischief, after his wound had been dressed at the receiving hospital.

BULLET BROKE WINDOW.

"I did not mean to break the window," he declared in Judge Smith's court this morning. "If you'll give me a chance I'll go to work and pay for the window. I didn't want to quit this life in debt, and I want to be square. But I haven't anything to live for, and I did the best I could to get out."

Judge Smith declared this morning that it was doubtful whether the boy could be held for discharging firearms within the city limits, as the shooting gallery carries a permit, and he had paid for his three shots. An effort is to be made to find a position for the boy, as he declares he is now willing to take another chance. His father is a member of the firm of Bennett Brothers of 63 Third street San Francisco, a well-known hardware establishment of that city.

COMPLAINS OF RELATIVES.

"My folks never cared for me," said the young man this morning in Judge Smith's court. "I wandered around a good deal, and recently I got down on my luck. I worked for about two weeks in my father's store, and then yesterday he got sore at me and told me to go to the devil, and that he hoped he would never see me alive again.

"I left the store and wandered around for a time. I had almost no money, nobody cared for me, or what became of me. I hadn't had much pleasure in this life as I had worked since I was a kid, and never got much for it, and I decided I'd quit.

"It didn't seem right to get my folks into this mess, so after wandering around the streets for a time I spent a nickel on the 5-cent ferry to come to Oakland. Then I couldn't decide how to kill myself, as I did not have enough money to buy a gun, and I didn't like jumping into the bay.

PLANNED HIS SUICIDE.

"About half-past 10 last night I passed this shooting gallery at Sixth and Washington streets and the idea came to me. I went in and paid 10 cents, all the money I had, for three shots. I fired the first two at the target to test the pistol and my aim, and then when the woman loaded the barrel the last time I stepped back, felt for my heart, put the muzzle here and fired.

"I didn't feel anything. I expected to fall down, but there I was standing up and looking at the woman. For a second I wondered if I might not be dead, but then I felt sure I must have missed, and put my hand to my side. There was blood there, but it didn't hurt.

"Then a couple of policemen came along and arrested me for shooting a hole through a big window. I hadn't meant to, and when they found I was shot they took me to the hospital.

WILL PAY FOR WINDOW.

"I hope they'll let me off. I would like to pay for that window if they'll put me on probation for a while. I guess I didn't know much about guns, or I would have succeeded."

The boy is fair-haired and blue-eyed, and tells a straight story with a half-smile on his face. He has no regrets for attempting his life but apparently feels sorry about breaking the window. The bullet crashed into a big pane of glass in the saloon of Cianciarulo Brothers at 833 Washington street. The arrest was made by Patrolman A. B. Smith and Special Morrison.

WOOLNER PLANS MANY CHANGES

New City Attorney Moves the Official Headquarters to First National.

Through the appointment of Ben F. Woolner as city attorney to succeed Senator John W. Stetson for the unexpired term, the legal offices of the city are transferred from the Oakland Bank of Savings to the First National Bank, where the new official has his offices. His personal staff will also be changed, although the appointments will not be announced for a few days.

Of the personnel of the attorney's office under the Stetson regime only assistant City Attorney W. H. O'Brien, who served under both Stetson and the late John E. McElroy, will remain. Reappointment was offered both Deputy City Attorney Joseph Koford and to Miss Winifred Cady, the official stenographer, but as Koford is now in partnership in the office of Senator Stetson, he preferred to resign, and Miss Cady will also remain with the ex-city attorney.

TERM EXPIRES JULY 1.

The present term will expire with the going out of the present administration when the first commission takes charge of the city's affairs under the new charter July 1 of this year. Until that time City Attorney Woolner will probably have charge directing the legal affairs from the new offices in the First National Bank building. Assistant City Attorney O'Brien will retain his offices in the City Hall Annex on the second floor of the Bixley-Grote building in Broadway.

O'Brien is familiar with all the minutes of the office, and will have charge of much of the routine work. Woolner will carry on the suits in the water front litigation and will sit as a member of the Board of Public Works and of the Police and Fire Commissioners.

The new City Attorney declared this morning that he had already commenced to familiarize himself with the duties of his new position and would have the office in smooth running shape within a few days.

LIVE UP TO RECORD.

"I hope to live up to the splendid records made by my two predecessors in this office as far as my abilities will permit," he said today. "My appointments will be announced in a few days. I understand that the official stenographer is appointed to the offices of the auditor and city attorney by city ordinance, and I will therefore have to consult Mr. Gross in this matter.

"I shall make every effort to keep the tradition of the office up to the standard in efficiency and honesty which has marked the careers of the late John E. McElroy and Senator Stetson. In this Mr. O'Brien will ably assist me, as I have the highest regard for his abilities."

City Attorney Woolner is a well-known Oakland, having been engaged in law practice here since 1885, after being admitted to the bar after studying under his present partner, Judge E. M. Gibson. He is a member of the Nile Club and of the local lodge of the Elks.

Clergyman's Son Cured of Tuberculosis

To neglect a cold, bronchitis, lung trouble or consumption is dangerous. We all know how prone people are to deny they have consumption. It is a flattering disease, and the sufferer is filled with bright hopes of improvement. Call consumption by its own dread name—and then—take Eckman's Alterative, because it is effective in Tuberculosis. No one need doubt about it—there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:

Gentlemen: "Prior to February, 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with la grippe, which developed into tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing flesh rapidly, having gone from 155 to 135 pounds. I coughed and raised continually and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alterative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite, the first in months. I am now in perfect health back to 155 pounds. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alterative."

(Signed) E. H. COWLES.

Gentlemen: "I cannot find words to express my appreciation of what your special has done for my son. It changed despair into hope within two weeks after he began taking it, and without any doubt in my mind, it saved his life.

"I wish to add my endorsement to every word of his testimonial."

SENATE ADJOURNS OUT OF RESPECT FOR ELKINS

Old Line Leader Dies After Many Weeks of Mysterious Illness.

SCIENTISTS FAIL TO DIAGNOSE CASE

Had Eventful Career, Rising Rapidly to Control of the Political Game.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Both houses of congress adjourned early today out of respect of Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia who died at his residence here last night after a lingering illness. The senate was in session only six minutes, adjourning until Monday. The house devoted a half hour to pressing business and then adjourned until noon tomorrow.

After a resolution expressing the senate's profound sorrow had been adopted the following senators were appointed a committee to accompany the body to his late home at Elkins, West Va.

Messrs. Scott, Hale, Fry, Aldrich, Cullom, Gallinger, Lodge, Bacon, Tillman, Keane, Bentley, Foster, Stone, Crane, Carter, Smith of Maryland and Root.

In the house announcement of Senator Elkins' death was made by Representative Gaines, of West Va. A resolution was adopted authorizing the speaker to appoint a committee to act with the committee from the senate.

ON MANY COMMITTEES.

Senator Elkins was chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce and his removal will make a rather startling change in the personnel of that committee, which is charged with passing on railroad legislation. There is little doubt that Senator Clapp of Minnesota, now fifth on the committee, will be chairman on the expiration of the present congress in less than two months.

Senator Clapp has been an insurgent on railroad rate legislation, and that he has favored many suggestions for the regulation of rates which the majority of the committee regarded as ultra radical.

The death of Senator Elkins leaves vacancies on the committees on appropriations, commerce, printing and rules.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Congress will reconvene at noon today following the recess for the Christmas holidays. The Senate will adjourn immediately out of respect for Senator Elkins who died last night. The House will probably proceed with the consideration of the appropriation bill which is before it as unfinished business.

ELKINS PASSES.

United States Senator Stephen Benton Elkins, one of the old line leaders in the Senate and one of the most picturesque political veterans in the country, died last night on the stroke of 12 at his home in this city.

For two months the doctors have failed to diagnose the cause of Senator Elkins' illness. At various times different causes of illness were stated.

The Senator had the best attention that could be provided for him. Famous specialists from all over the country attended him. Every effort failed to save the life of the man who made Benjamin Harrison President of the United States and who served under him as Secretary of War.

MAN OF GREAT WEALTH.

The writer of a character sketch of Elkins would begin by saying that he was tall, strong, energetic, sly, secret and smooth shaven, looking more like a churchman or a jurist than a Senator. And the writer might have added that Elkins was a rich man, reputed to be worth $30,000,000, if not more.

Elkins was 70 years old born in Perry county, Ohio, in 1841. In 1847 however, his parents moved to Missouri where he lived until he was 23 years old. During that time he went to school and the university, was a school teacher, escaped death at the hands of Quantrel's raiders and served as a soldier in the Union army. He often told the story of his escape from Quantrel.

FLED FROM SCHOOLROOM.

On the day that the guerilla band appeared in the vicinity of the log schoolhouse where Elkins was teaching, Elkins threw down his spelling book and took to the woods, preferring the deeper hollows of the forest to the schoolroom, as arguing more strongly for safety.

For three days Elkins lived on bark, twigs, berries and hope—which later was largely fear—and lost flesh by the experience. Of a sudden he heard a scrambling in the bushes and a man rode forth. Elkins was too nearly dead to run, too much the prey of despair to hide. It was as well, or better.

"Why, if it ain't the Professor?" exclaimed the horseman.

With that a wave of relief swept over Mr. Elkins. The horseman was Cole Younger, later a shining light among train robbers, at that moment with Quantrell, aforetime one of Elkins' promising pupils.

"What'll I do, Cole?" asked Elkins, feebly.

"Take a drink," returned the matter-of-fact guerrilla.

Following a reviving libation from Younger's bottle, Elkins climbed up behind that Samaritan and was taken to a place of security.

IF IT HAD BEEN JESSE JAMES.

"And let me tell you, Professor," quoth Younger as he received Elkins' thanks, "it was lucky I happened along. If it had been Jesse James, now, or some of the others, they'd have filled you as full of lead as a bag of bullets, simply to see you kick."

Forty years went by. Elkins had a deal to do with procuring a pardon for Younger, who was a "lifer" in the Stillwater penitentiary for murdering a banking teller in an energetic effort which he—with the James boys—made to rob a bank.

It was in 1864 that Elkins went to New Mexico to lay the bed plates of his fortune. He was then 23 years old. He learned to talk Spanish—he had to—and he went into law and into politics. He became a member of the territorial legislature and in 1867 was named Attorney-General for the territory. Then President Andrew Johnson appointed him United States District Attorney for New Mexico and President Grant continued him in the same office.

As United States Attorney Elkins stamped out peonage in New Mexico. He also began to make money—so much money that by 1869 he was president of the First National Bank of Santa Fe.

Elkins rolled up gold and cut it into lands, mines and cattle. Keeping one foot in politics, he went to Congress as Territorial delegate in 1873. His opponent was a Mexican and Elkins went over that unfortunate greaser like a train of cars. Elkins put in four years as a delegate, and if mankind were no better for it, Elkins was no worse.

CALIFORNIANS FIGHT FOR FAIR IN SAN FRANCISCO

Golden State Has Slight Advantage Over Louisiana, but, Nevertheless, Delegates Are Working Hard for Pacific Coast.

(Special to TRIBUNE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—With the opening of congress today the California representatives in congress put forth their final efforts to secure federal recognition for San Francisco as the site for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The fact cannot be disguised that the contest is close, and while the Californians are sanguine that they have a little the best of it at the present moment, some change might occur that would give the advantage to New Orleans.

Even the New Orleans boosters admit that California has made gains since the opening of congress. Many who were pledged to the southern city have been won over to the cause of San Francisco. The members of the California congressional delegation have been devoting practically all of their time to the contest, and have been very materially assisted by the committee of prominent California citizens who spent several weeks in Washington. The New Orleans boosters admit that the Californians were a "live bunch," as they expressed it. The exposition headquarters at the New Willard Hotel have been crowded and oranges raisins and glace fruits have been distributed to all comers.

The fine display of photographs of San Francisco has called forth favorable comment.

When the California delegation began to distribute the fruit among their colleagues it created a panic among the Louisiana congressmen, who bemoaned the fact that their state had nothing to distribute except sugar cane and rice.

BELL DOES GOOD WORK.

Theodore Bell has been doing excellent work among the Democratic members. Many of them who served with Bell while he was a member of congress are still here. As Bell has access to the floor he has a decided advantage.

New Orleans has been claiming that owing to the population within easy access to the state that the attendance at the exposition if held at New Orleans would far exceed any exposition held in San Francisco.

In answer to this the Californians have compiled figures which show that the total attendance at Jamestown was 1,481,000, at the New Orleans Cotton Exposition in 1884 but 1,158,000, while at Seattle the attendance was 2,766,000, more than the combined attendance at both Jamestown and New Orleans, two alleged logical points.

The pressure has been so great upon members of congress that many would like to see the matter compromised and expositions held at both New Orleans and San Francisco, but it is generally admitted that this would mean that neither exposition would be a success.

$150,000 FOR HARBOR.

The rivers and harbors bill, which recently passed the house, contained an appropriation of $150,000 for Oakland harbor. Congressman Knowland ascertained that the balance remaining from the last appropriation was $262,000, making the total amount available $412,000. This is practically all that can be used during the coming year. Rivers and harbors bills are now passed annually. In the last rivers and harbors bill Senator Perkins and Congressman Knowland had inserted a provision that in case the bids for dredging should not be satisfactory that a part of the appropriation could be used in purchasing or building a government dredging plant.

Congressman Know and was informed by the chief of engineers that with this provision in the bill the bids had been reduced from 25.7 cents per cubic yard to 11.4 cents per cubic yard. In February, 1905, the lowest bid was 29.7 cents per cubic yard. The lowest bid under the last rivers and harbors bill was 11.4 cents per cubic yard. For this reason Congressman Knowland deemed it advisable to have again inserted in the present rivers and harbors bill a similar provision, which will unquestionably result in the obtaining of reasonable bids for the new work.

FOR PORT OF ENTRY.

Congressman Knowland will introduce, after the recess, a bill making Oakland a separate port of entry. While at this short session action is not expected upon this measure the bill will unquestionably be referred to the Treasury Department, which will result in an investigation. The department will collect data showing the value of goods entered at Oakland and the amount of revenue collected.

Whatever the new apportionment may be Alameda county will be made a separate congressional district. There is a possibility that it will contain more than the requisite population, and that one assembly district may be attached to another congressional district. If an apportionment is so figured as to deprive no state of representatives there will be an increase of 40 or 50 members in congress and under such an apportionment California will be entitled to three additional members. Figuring upon this basis, 215,000 will constitute a district. Alameda county has 24,000.

There is some disposition not to make an apportionment during this session of congress, hoping that the Republicans may in the meantime obtain control of the legislature of New York and other heretofore Republican states which went Democratic as a result of the late tidal wave. If the reapportionment is not made by congress until after the California legislature adjourns the additional congressmen allotted to California will be elected at large.

IMPORTANT QUESTION.

One of the most important questions likely to be taken up at this session of congress will be the matter of fixing tolls to be charged vessels passing through the Panama canal. A conference was recently held at the White House, participated in by Senator Flint of California, chairman of the senate committee on interoceanic canals, and Congressman Mann of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce. This will be a subject of vital importance to the Pacific coast and it is fortunate for California that the state has a representative upon this committee.

Congressman Knowland of the Third congressional district is a member of the committee and while this important question is pending before the committee will carefully guard the interests of Pacific coast shippers. In some quarters it has been urged that certain American vessels should be allowed free passage through the canal. Those opposed to this argue that under our treaty with Great Britain this would be a discrimination. The question is one that will require most careful consideration.

Perhaps a man is justified in spending a dollar to save a dime—just once, for the experience.

The Seventh-Street Franchise.

Mr. Councilman Elliot's attempt to defeat the Seventh street franchise does not astonish any one. For a long time his official and personal conduct has had for its motive opposition to all progress in Oakland, in order that this city may be kept small enough to be easily swallowed by San Francisco. Taking the narrow view that what Oakland gains San Francisco must lose, his efforts have been to prevent Oakland gaining anything, and to inflict the greatest possible injury upon this city he promotes a conspiracy to enable our conquest by San Francisco, without our consent. Of such a man it is expected that every artful blow in his power to strike will be struck at the solar plexus of Oakland.

Mr. Everhart's efforts in the same direction are inspired by his socialistic allegiance. Like all socialist members of parliamentary bodies in every country, his business is to hinder and hamper existing forms of government and prevent any good flowing from them to the people in order that popular despair may make converts to socialism. While the effect of his conduct as a Councilman is the same, he is entitled to more respect than Mr. Elliot. The two Councilmen in alliance with them, Messrs. Vose and Cobbledick, are business men in Oakland and the property owners and business men of this city expect of them a different policy. They cannot afford to subject themselves permanently to the malign influence of a disappointed political ambition, or make themselves the instruments to promote the gangrene grudge of a discredited politician.

Oakland felt the sap of life rising under her bark when Mr. F. M. Smith effected the control of vast capital to be used in the development of this city. To use that capital profitably to himself and usefully to the development of Oakland, permits and franchises and proper privileges must be had. Messrs. Cobbledick and Vose should be the last men to inaugurate a policy of nagging and annoyance to serve as an example to others, who for political gain will be ready to blast the future of Oakland and kick it out of the path to a profitable destiny.

Police Captain Petersen informs the Enquirer that the law empowers him to invade the sanctity of a home without a warrant, arrest the owner and incarcerate him in jail for days without putting any charge against him. Captain Petersen may be right, but we would like to have him point out the provision of law giving the police the power he says they have. It is necessary sometimes to take people into custody on suspicion and hold them for a period pending investigation, but so far as our knowledge goes the courts have never declared the proceeding to be legal, nor do we know of any statute authorizing dwellings to be invaded and searched and the occupants arrested without a warrant. The exercise of such power is dangerous in the extreme. In England it is not permitted under any circumstances. There men are not arrested and jailed on mere suspicion or pretense of suspicion. It is a practice that is subject to grave abuse and is one that should not be unduly encouraged. If Captain Petersen is too busy to look up the law defining the powers of the police he might very properly, and perhaps with profit to himself, ask the District Attorney for some instruction. He evidently needs it, though he does not think so.

The death of Senator Elkins of West Virginia gives the Democrats another seat in the Senate. After next March they will have forty-one members in the upper house. There are only thirty-three Democratic Senators in the present Congress. The Legislature of West Virginia is strongly Democratic, and will undoubtedly elect a Bourbon to succeed Elkins.

Puppet Judges and Made-to-Order Law.

A companion piece to the recall of judges is the proposal to substitute the varying opinions of judicial officers subject to the whims and passions of the fickle multitude for the regular processes and the strict letter of the law. Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook magazine, said in a recent address that appellate courts should never reverse a judgment unless "substantial injustice had been done." That is, he would put aside all rules of evidence and the methods of procedure and allow the equation of what is termed general principles to rule. If a man should be charged with burglary and the jury convicted him of arson Dr. Abbott would forbid appellate courts to interfere with the judgment if the appellate judges believed the defendant had committed some criminal act for which he should be punished.

For example, there is a popular impression that Walter J. Barnett was a guilty confederate of J. Dalzell Brown in the looting of the California Safe Deposit Bank and Trust Company. In the information on which he was brought to trial he was charged with one offense, but was actually found guilty of a separate and distinct crime, the trial court admitted evidence going to prove him guilty of an offense not charged in the information, and the jury found him guilty of that offense. But the court of appeal ordered a new trial on the well-settled principle of law that a man cannot be charged with one crime and tried for another. According to Dr. Abbott's theory, the verdict should have stood if the appellate judges believed Bartnett had committed some offense that deserved punishment.

This theory not only makes judges of appellate tribunals judges of both the law and the facts, but wipes out the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person brought to trial for an alleged crime shall be charged definitely with the offense committed, the time and place of its commission and such other particulars as will apprise him of the nature of the allegations he has to answer, that he may be put upon his defense fairly. It may be a notorious fact that a man has committed highway robbery, but he cannot be tried and convicted of embezzlement or house-breaking under our present system, and evidence going to show that he is guilty of offenses other than that charged in the information is not admissible unless it is germane to the issue before the court. This wholesome rule would be obliterated if men like Dr. Abbott had their way. They would make judges the creatures and instruments of mob spirit and then break down every safeguard the law sets up in defense of life and liberty. On this subject we cannot do better than quote from a recent article in the North American Review written by Hon. Horace H. Lurton, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Judge Lurton was not dealing with the administration of criminal law, but with the proposition that the executive and the judiciary should be permitted to stretch or twist the law, particularly the constitution, to serve ends they might deem wise and beneficent; but the principle he defends underlies not only our whole system of jurisprudence, but the entire fabric of our political institutions. If judgments can be revised or reversed by calling judges off the bench and the law made nebulous and plastic, what basic principle of jurisprudence have we left? Judges would not only make as well as interpret laws, but make laws and rules adapted to each case brought before them. They become both legislators and jurymen, without check upon them other than the transitory opinion of the crowd in the street. Judge Lurton says:

"Neither a Constitution nor a statute is to be treated by either the executive or the judiciary as if it were a 'nose of wax,' to be twisted and moulded according to the fancy of the occasion. It is against this most dangerous notion of judicial power that I most earnestly protest. There is nothing in the past history of either the national or State judiciary which gives sanction to any such abuse of power or supports an expectation that the function of interpreting will be tortured into an exercise of legislative power. The rules of construction are plain and simple of application. They are in substance identical, whether the instrument for interpretation be a statute or a contract. The courts possess neither the power of taxation nor that of the sword. They are dependent upon the legislative power for their existence, and upon the executive for the force needful to enforce their judgments. Set in the place of an arbiter between the branches among which the functions of government have been parceled, they constitute the balance wheel in our unique and splendid governmental system. They are the guardians of the fundamental law which conducts and controls the otherwise uncontrollable legislative power. Their dominating authority is moral. They will continue to retain the authority necessary to their free action so long only as they shall respect their own limitations, scrupulously avoiding the exercise of powers which they have not, and fearlessly exercising those which they have. But this duty of keeping within the limits of the organic law is one which does not rest upon the judicial branch with any greater force than it rests upon the co-ordinate departments of government. The lawmaker no less than the judge exercises his office under the same solemn obligation to support and uphold the limitations of the organic law. Why shall that oath rest more lightly upon one than the other? In the forum of conscience may the legislator say, as he too often does, 'I will not consider that side of the matter—that I will turn over to the courts?' Yet, as we all know, this is not an unusual attitude for a legislator who finds questionable legislation desirable if valid. This is not honest, nor is it expedient."

The court of which Judge Lurton is a member has just set the seal of condemnation on an attempt to stretch criminal jurisdiction in what is known as the Panama libel cases. Offended by certain publications in the New York World and the Indianapolis News, President Roosevelt had the editors and publishers of those journals indicted in the District of Columbia for libeling the Federal government. The Attorney-General was the prosecutor. By this proceeding an effort was made to interpolate a provision in the criminal code of the United States and extend jurisdiction beyond constitutional limits. The judges in the District of Columbia are appointed by the President and live in the shadow of the power of which they are creatures. If they could amend the codes at their pleasure and extend their jurisdiction to every part of the United States, the President would hold the life and liberty of every citizen in the hollow of his hand. Could tyranny and ambition be given a greater power?

"Public office is a public trust," say the reformers—provided the reformers get all the jobs. Positions in the public service should not be made the spoil of politics, they aver, but they believe in turning the other fellows out and taking the places themselves. They do not want the spoils themselves, but they feel it to be their painful duty to displace the spoilsmen. Still the process is very similar to the one practiced by frank partisans who stand by the doctrine that the victors are entitled to the spoils. The reform brethren are grabbing everything in sight to prevent the enemies of good government from getting anything. All true reformers believe in rewarding the virtuous and punishing the wicked. Hence they spoil the Egyptians and allow only the elect to sit at the pie-counter.

AVIATION MEET TO BE WONDER

Big Military Tournament Being Planned by the U. S. Government.

An aviation military tournament to be carried on under the supervision of the federal military authorities and replete with all of the accessories in field equipment and hospital service known to modern science, is the latest innovation planned by the aviation committee which is working hand in hand with the United States military officials to make the coming aviation meet history-making both spectacularly and scientifically.

Recent unfortunate aerial fatalities have but served to act as a spur to the aviation committee to materially assist if possible in bringing nearer to ultimate success aerial experiments which will go toward making the noble sacrifice of Hoxsey and Moisant a lasting monument to the cause of the supremacy of America in the field of aviation. The element of danger both to aviators and spectators should be reduced to a minimum is the desire of President F. E. Scotford, Secretary Paul W. Beck and the aviation committee.

Not satisfied with the promised breaking of records, both world and American, by the most skillful and daring birdmen in the world and the remarkable tests to be made by the army, navy and marine officers in the throwing of aerial projectiles from swiftly moving air machines on land and sea, the committee this morning completed arrangements by which the aviation field will be converted into a model training camp. The thousands of spectators will be given a first hand idea of a crack military battalion at play in feats of skill and daring during the progress of the meet in a unique military tournament.

By a well thought out plan of campaign a double feature will be carried out by the military forces in entertaining and in keeping the danger zone free from spectators. The second battalion of the Thirtieth Infantry, under command of Major J. P. O'Niel will participate and be camped during the entire meet in a suitable position to view the tests both of the birdmen and give warning to the unwary who approach within the danger zone.

A feature of the tournament will be the appearance of Company F, the champion wall-scaling company of the United States army, under command of Lieutenant James Ord. This company will carry their entire wall-scaling apparatus with them and every day of the meet give exhibitions of the facility in climbing a 12-foot wall which won them the title from the other crack companies in the army. The Butt's manual in battalion to music will be among the striking features of the exhibition to be given. The guard will be mounted every day and will observe military aerial experiments and aeroplane reconnoissance. Forty-two conical tents to house 250 men will be pitched on the grounds early Friday to be in readiness for the opening of the meet Saturday.

Dr. George Lee Eaton, president of the Board of Health, will be in active charge of the hospital tents, the new Park Emergency Hospital ambulance will be requisitioned into service; two physicians of the City and County Hospital will be in readiness to meet any accident in the crowd or to the aviators and two trained nurses with every necessary appliance for "first aid" treatment will be in attendance.

Captain W. Stepford, post commander, post of San Francisco, was this morning detailed by the department commander chief timer to act for the aviation committee during the meet. Major Henry Roosevelt, a cousin of Theodore Roosevelt, and quartermaster in the marine corps, was appointed superanuary timer and judge.

Fifty thousand dollars in prizes have been put up by the citizens' aviation committee for the professional aviators who are to take part in the contests at South San Francisco from January 7 to 16. According to Glenn H. Curtiss if the present weather holds out, the conditions will be contributary to exceedingly fast work by the birdmen.

The list of events to be run off, the present holders of the records, the aviators who will in all probability compete for them and the amount of prizes offered by the committee is as follows:

SHALL CALIFORNIA HAVE A SUNDAY-CLOSING LAW?

EDITOR TRIBUNE:

Does California want to begin to make religious laws? Shall we begin to form a union of church and state? Shall we turn our backs on religious freedom by turning to the religious legislation of the dark ages?

The above questions are involved in the project of making Sunday laws, and for that reason we protest against them vigorously, and invite any law abiding citizen to assist us in signing petitions against them.

Stands are erected in the following places in the city of Oakland where petitions can be signed and literature obtained on the subject free of charge: Northwest corner of Twelfth and Broadway, 241 Broadway street; 907 Broadway, 470 Seventh street, 1060 Broadway.

Our general office is located at 601 Telegraph avenue, where a full supply of tracts, magazines, books, and Bibles can be secured at any time, at reasonable rates.

"INALIENABLE RIGHTS.

"The fact is, human rights are not the gift of any legislature. The American Declaration of Independence affirms that all men 'are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights.' Recognizing this eternal principle, the framers of our national constitution placed man's relation to God above human legislation, and so made his rights of conscience inalienable. That immortal document emphatically says: 'Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.'

"The Declaration of Rights of the State of California provides that 'the free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship, without discrimination or preference, shall forever be guaranteed in this state.' But notwithstanding that both national and state guarantees are so strongly stated, a campaign has been inaugurated in California to have a law enacted obliging everybody to observe Sunday as a day of rest."

FORM OF PETITION.

"To the Senate and Assembly of the California Legislature of 1911: We, the undersigned legal voters, State of California, believing that the civil enactment of any Sunday law would be subversive of civil liberty, and tend to destroy the peace and harmony of neighborhoods, hereby earnestly petition your honorable body to permit no Sunday law, or any other form of religious legislation to be placed upon the statute books of the State of California."

Political Comment

"It doesn't matter so much what Beveridge has to say about the tariff," suggests the Montgomery Advertiser. Or, for that matter, about anything else.—Richmond News Leader.

Governor-elect Dix's fraters of Theta Delta Chi grew warmly enthusiastic at the dinner, last night, at the Hotel Astor, New York, and nominated him for President of the United States. Much can be forgiven the exuberance of youth and the exhilaration and the inspiration of the occasion. Yet the nomination is somewhat premature. However, Mr. Dix has an opportunity in the next two years to impress his fellow citizens with the fact that he is of Presidential size. He thus far has measured up to the requirements of the office of Governor of the Empire State, and that exalted place has often been the "stepping stone to higher things."—Hartford Times.

President Taft deserves the highest commendation for the determined putting down of his foot upon the attempt to disturb the peace of this nation with a war scare.—Albany Journal.

ARMY INTERESTED IN COMING MEET

Aviators' Work to Be Watched With Much Interest at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO Jan 4—'I regard the tests and experiments that have been arranged for the coming International aviation meet of the greatest importance to the War Department If they are successfully carried out they will revolutionize modern warfare The scouting and sketching and the application of the wireless apparatus to this branch of the service will give the signal corps a new importance I shall personally attend and take official interest in the meet as regards the experiments under the supervision of army men

The above statement was made by General Tasker H Bliss commander of the Department of California and it is evident that the coming meet has aroused the strong interest of the War Department at Washington The aviators are now working in consultation with the army officers detailed for the work by Lieutenant Paul W Beck the government officer in charge of the tests Lieutenant T C Walker of the Eighth Infantry stationed at Monterey has been detached for special service at the meet Walker is an experienced aviator and has been stationed at Fort San Houston Texas where he assisted in the experiments of Lieutenant Fulois the only official aviator at present in the government service The Wright biplane used by Foulois is the only one used by the army but from the present interest of the War Department the coming meet may result in a large appropriation and a special fleet of air vessels for the use of the signal corps

NAVY INTERESTED

The Navy Department has also entered into the spirit of the present meet and Secretary Meyer and the high officials at Washington are compelled to take notice of the work done by the new air scouts because of the bearing which their performances have on naval affairs Meyer was largely responsible for the first naval test for aeroplanes when he gave permission to Ely and the Curtiss aviators to use the U S S Birmingham at Hampton Roads for the experiment of arising from the deck with an aeroplane

The last experiment aroused the interest of the department and when permission was asked by the San Francisco aviation board to have one of the vessels of the Pacific fleet placed at the disposal of the aviators for naval experiments Secretary Meyer at once sent instructions to Admiral Barry to detail a ship for Ely s experiments

The Pennsylvania has been detailed for the meet and the decks are being prepared for the tests of Eugene Ely who will attempt to alight upon the ship while under way after having arisen and made a survey of aviation field The story of Ely s first experiment when he flew from the Birmingham in the face of under adverse conditions is already well known

START CAMPAIGN FOR ALAMEDA SUBWAY

Joint Committee Discusses the Matter at Improvement Club Meeting.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE SENDS DELEGATION

Hynes Drafts Bill to Further Proposed Tunnel Connecting Cities.

With a view of instituting a campaign which will ultimately result in the building of a tunnel beneath the estuary connecting this city with Alameda a joint committee representing the Merchants Exchange of Oakland and the Federal Improvement clubs of Alameda met in that city last night and discussed the project at some length.

Those present were H M Sheranasky secretary of the federation C R Smith and Dr Tom Carpenter representing the Alameda delegation and Wilbur Walker R Robertson and Joseph Martin of the Merchants Exchange. Among the organizations represented by the Alameda delegation were the Chamber of Commerce the Real Estate Exchange the East End and North Side Improvement clubs the whole committee being known as the Oakland Alameda subway committee.

BILL DRAFTED

It was stated at the meeting that Assistant District Attorney Hynes had drafted a bill which will be presented to the state legislature at the present session. Its adoption will empower the board of supervisors to assist in the construction of the subway.

It will be introduced into the assembly by Assemblyman Cr[illegible] of Alameda and is looked upon as the most important bill which he has to offer.

Following the movement made by Supervisor Joseph M Kelly two years ago that the board take some steps in that direction the matter was referred to the district attorney who decided that the board had not the power to appropriate funds for such a purpose.

The problem has therefore remained in the background since then except at such times as Supervisor Kelly has brought it to light in an effort to bring about a campaign that would in some way lead to the accomplishment which he has always considered would be of the greatest advantage and improvement to both cities and the county of Alameda as well.

It was pointed out by Secretary Wilbur Walker that in order to successfully carry through the proposition a campaign of education should be started at once or as soon as the bill had passed the legislature.

NO TIME TO LOSE

There is no time to be lost he said for there is a large percentage of the population who will have to be educated in the matter and as it will finally come to a question of who is to pay for the subway the people will want to have an understanding.

Walker stated that the proportionate amount of taxes paid by the outside district would cause those people to become interested and the committees should be appointed at once to work among them. According to the official records Oakland contributes about 60 per cent of the taxes. Berkeley 20 per cent Alameda 10 per cent and the outlying territory 10 per cent while the population is apportioned in about the same ratio.

BOARD ORDERS SALOON TO CLOSE

San Leandro Resort Charged With Violating Stringent Laws.

"Palm" Notified License Will Not Be Renewed at the End of Month.

SAN LEANDRO Jan 5—Meeting in special session the board of town trustees decided to notify the firm of Kennedy & Williams proprietors of the Palm saloon on San Lorenzo avenue that after the 31st instant when their saloon license expires no renewal of the license will be granted. This decision was reached after a report had been submitted by Town Marshal M Gelsenhofer which informed the trustees that women had been [illegible] Palm saloon for several days at a time that drinks had been served to minors and that gambling games were permitted on the premises.

Marshal Gelsenhofer stated before the board that after the trustees in October last had served notice on the saloonmen of San Leandro that they must keep their places as directed by the stringent town ordinance he had employed Private Detective C A Taggart of Oakland to make a secret investigation of the manner in which the saloons were being conducted. Taggart's report was submitted.

FINDS VIOLATIONS

It showed that he had made several visits of inspection to the several suspected saloons of the town at various intervals. He had found no violation he stated except at two of them the Cascade and a saloon conducted by A J Cunha. The Cascade Joe Williams [illegible] had been told by Taggart, furnished a crap game on Wednesday nights when the men from the local cannery came in to buy their pay checks. [illegible] Williams however had told him that the cannery men rent a room upstairs and run the crap game to suit themselves.

As to Cunha's saloon Taggart reported that he had seen three games of poker in progress in a back room on the occasion of one of his visits and that the players were plentifully supplied with chips and none.

Cunha was haled before the trustees and denied that he had any games of chance in his saloon other than for the drinks and the trustees deferred action in his case until January 16.

Kennedy & Williams did not escape so easily as it was established that one of the women habitues of their saloon had been making a show of herself on the sidewalk in front of the saloon which is located on a principal street opposite the town flagstaff and had been finally sent away from the place accompanied by a male companion both in a state of intoxication which had its interruption in a gutter at Fruitvale where the Oakland police arrested both the woman and her companion.

NEW FERRY LINE PLANNED BY OAKLAND AND ANTIOCH RAILWAY

Articles of Incorporation Filed by Oakland and Bay Shore Line; Suburban Territory to Be Opened

A new ferry line is promised Oakland by the filing in San Francisco yesterday of articles of incorporation of the Oakland and Bay Shore Railway Company. John R Selby attorney Albert Kutt meyer and R H M[illegible] are mentioned as incorporators but none of them would divulge more than cursory information as to the plans of the company.

It is known however that this secures for the Oakland and Antioch railroad seven miles of electric road in this city as a waterfront terminal for the line about to enter Alameda county. The Oakland and Antioch is now coming through Contra Costa on its way to Oakland and when completed with the new corporation will have 67 miles of rail way with in construction and equipment $2,000,000.

INDEPENDENT OF OTHERS

"Our enterprise," said Miller "is entirely independent of the Southern Pacific or the Key Route system. We aim to have a modern fast electric service from Oakland and San Francisco to a large suburban area not accessible by either the Key Route or the Southern Pacific. That is all I can say at present."

The Oakland and Bay Shore Railway's articles of incorporation state that the new road is to start at the eastern end of Shafter avenue and run in a southwesterly direction to Thirty-eighth street and thence to the west end of Seventh street where it will meet the waterfront upon the proposed extension of Seventh street.

ANOTHER LINE

A line will also be run down Webster and Thirty-eighth streets southward on Webster street to Thirteenth.

The Oakland and Antioch Railway which has seventeen miles of track already starts from Antioch in Contra Costa county and will run into Alameda county to the Oakland city limits.

The foot of Seventh street to be opened to the bay will be the site of the new road's terminus thus giving ferry connections with a large producing suburban area not touched by existing roads.

This road will be a big thing for Oakland and is being fostered all along the line. It means a big boom along the line of the road. The public in general is helping the road in every way. The incorporators will be assisted in every way by the people in getting the necessary franchises.

Under the direction of Albert Morrill the boys are progressing. All the sports are conducted in the gymnasium in West Oakland, where many games have been played.

The gymnasium was the gift of the women of the club, headed by Mrs. Robert Watt. Twice a week the members meet for general gymnastic work under Superintendent Morrill.

There is also a light weight team in the club and also a fast five-man relay team, and they have announced that they will accept a challenge from any team of similar weight on this side of the bay.

To perfect the moral as well as the physical development of the boys is one of the objects of the club, which is a growing organization and has a bright future.

George W. Dickie, superintendent of the Oakland playgrounds, has called a meeting of the Boy Scouts' committee to consider the reorganization of the Boy Scouts of this community, Thursday evening, January 12, in the rooms of the Merchants' Exchange, Twelfth and Broadway.

Since the launching of the Boy Scout movement here a love for the outdoor life has been cultivated and the lads are benefiting by the tramps which they have taken from time to time to the pleasure resorts of Alameda county. Hundreds of boys have joined the ranks and hundreds have expressed their desire to become affiliated with the movement.

Great is the Oyster Stew— —when Sealshipt!

MADE from Oysters—you know!
—The most digestible and delicious of all foods.
—Plus milk—the most perfect of all foods.

Like balm to your poor old tortured "Tummy"—this soothing, healing, highly nourishing and easily digested Oyster Stew.

Rest up your System on it!
—Three times a week at least.
—And note the Internal Comfort which results.

Go to your Oyster Dealer's Store today!

Look there for a white porcelain Refrigerator Salescase.

If you find the words "Sealshipt Oysters" enameled in blue on it—buy a pint from it, and send them home.

But if you don't find the words "Sealshipt Oysters" in blue clearly enameled on it—
—Pass on to another and better Dealer—

Because,—genuine "Sealshipt Oysters" are never retailed from any other receptacle—
—No matter who says so.

OYSTERS have been faked to a finish.
—They have been grown near Cities, in contaminated waters.
—They have been shipped in contact with dirty Ice-water and handled in transit.
—They have been bleached, chemically preserved, and bloated like sponges full of Common Tap Water.
—They have been shipped in Tins containing salt water from inside of shells, which rusts exposed iron.
(Many of these Tins have been soldered with Acid.)
—They have been exposed to air, light and moisture until much of their finer flavor and nutriment had vanished.

Now you may possibly buy other Oysters without all, or any, of these disadvantages.

But—
—There's only one sure way to get them—
That's to buy "Sealshipts," and no others.

BECAUSE—
—The waters over every Oyster bed owned by the Sealshipt Oyster System are regularly examined and analyzed by the famous Lederle Laboratories of New York City.

This, to guard against any possible contamination or Typhoid Infection.

Then the Oysters are (with infinite Care and Cleanliness)—
—Dredged from the Sea, in the morning.
—Shelled and washed by noon.
—Packed (Solid Oyster Meats only,—no Salt Water) in 3 gallon and 5 gallon patent Sealshiptor Refrigerators by 2 o'clock.
—Sealed air-tight, water-tight, light-tight, and shipped to authorized Dealers, per Rapid Transit, by 4 o'clock of the same day they came from the Ocean.

Tells How to Make a Pint of Laxative Cough Syrup Very Cheaply at Home.

The reason that most all cough syrups are ineffective, is that the ordinary preparations are very constipating and after a while they aggravate the congestion and bring on fever and pneumonia. To avoid pneumonia the bowels should be laxative and the cough will soon be overcome.

The finest acting most pleasant tasting and laxative cough syrup can be made at home by any one. Obtain from a well-stocked druggist 2½ ounces of essence mentho-laxene, empty it into a pint bottle. Make a syrup with a pint of granulated sugar and a half pint boiling water, stir and let cool. Then fill up the bottle with syrup. Shake it well and take a teaspoonful every hour or two until the cough is cured. This is the quickest acting and surest cough remedy ever conceived. All wholesale druggists and most retail druggists sell essence mentho-laxene.

ASKS RAILROAD TO STOP OPPOSITION

The City Council of Seattle Requests H. S. Lovett to Take Action.

SEATTLE, Jan. 5.—The city council has adopted a resolution requesting H. S. Lovett, president of the Union Pacific, to advise the council whether that railroad was interested directly or indirectly in the bringing of actions attacking the validity of the proposed King county harbor bonds.

The county commissioners sent a telegram to Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance of the Harriman system, asking that the company desist from further obstruction to improvements desired by the community.

The Harriman system is the only one of the four transcontinental railroads terminating in Seattle which is opposing the harbor improvements.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup than You Can Buy

A Family Supply, Saving $2 and Fully Guaranteed.

A full pint of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $2.50—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of an obstinate cough more quickly, usually ending it inside of 24 hours. Excellent, too, for whooping cough, sore lungs, asthma, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix 1 pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This is just laxative enough to help cure a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which is usually upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe is now used by thousands of housewives throughout the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

CANDY QUEEN, TRADE MAGNET, WEDS SECRETLY

"Jack" Taaffe Won by San Franciscan; "Marrying Pastor" to Lecture.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5.—"Jack," the queen of a downtown candy shop, whose real name was Edna Taaffe, and whose magnetic beauty attracted so much trade that the proprietor valued her services beyond price, is a bride, and the secret was kept six months.

Her husband is Gerald Croft, the young son of a San Francisco dentist, and the fact of their marriage was discovered when they left for the north, where they will reside. Croft will attend a dental college and complete his education there.

The romance began in the sweets dispensary about the time that Croft graduated from the Los Angeles High school last summer, and in a few weeks they went to Santa Ana, where a "marrying preacher," easily pledged to secrecy, tied the knot. Then Mrs. Croft continued her work in the store as usual. Her husband never went there, and the scores of love-lorn swains who bought box after box of confectionery in an effort to make an impression did not dream that they were trying to court one who was already a wife. She is 18 and Croft 21. He figured in high school athletics.

To Advise Newly-weds

FRESNO, Jan. 5.—Rev. Duncan Wallace, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city, will deliver a sermon next Sunday morning on the "American Home" to an audience which will be composed of couples he has married since his residence in Fresno. During his eight years here he has married more than 800 couples. Invitations have been sent out to all to be present next Sunday morning. He has been assured that fully 500 of the couples will be present.

Rev. Mr. Wallace is known in Fresno as the "marrying parson." He performs more marriages in a year than any five other ministers in the city. This year he married 344 couples and last year he married 150 couples.

His only rival is George W. Smith, a justice of the peace. Smith led him this year with 152 couples.

Defeated by Law

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Mme. Isabel Hart Guillimin, the beautiful wife of Jean Guilemin, minister from France to Peru, was defeated in her attempt to secure her alleged share of the millions left by her foster father, Benjamin Hart, when Justice Greenbaum handed down a decision in the supreme court sustaining the will as executed in favor of Michael Hart of New York, nephew of Benjamin Hart, and his former housekeeper, Gabrielle de Bi of Paris. Hart, whose romantic career led him from a Virginia peddler to a life of ease in a Paris mansion, cut off his adopted daughter completely.

Disarmed With Hymn

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 4.—Because a man who walked up behind her on a dark street was whistling a hymn, Miss Anna Childress of this city was not frightened until he grabbed her sealskin bag, containing a small amount of money, and ran. The robbery occurred in the residence section of Kansas City.

"The man was whistling the hymn, 'Bringing in the Sheaves,'" said Miss Childress, "and I did not suspect him."

Stung! Another Bogus Count Exposed

FOOTLIGHTS LURE HER

MISS JANE HASKELL, Daughter of Oklahoma's Governor, Who is to go on the Stage.

GUTHRIE—Miss Jane Haskell, youngest daughter of Oklahoma's governor, who is seventeen, intends to go on the stage. She is now completing her studies in a private school in Cincinnati. Her brother Joe has been associated with the "Ranch 101" wild west show.

Miss Haskell is a decided beauty of the blonde type. It was generally understood that Governor Haskell did not favor a stage career for his daughter, and even after her departure for Cincinnati he continued his opposition. Declaring instead she would prepare to become a kindergarten teacher.

PARIS.—The news of the "stinging" of a wealthy American girl and her family by a foreign diplomat and nearcount, almost at the door of the church, in the United States her family would not consent to meet his eleventh-hour demand for a larger marriage allowance, has created interest and amusement here where the man is not unknown and where the young lady and her parents have visited on several occasions. While there is every disposition to extend sympathy to her and her relatives, yet there are some members of the American colony who shrug their shoulders and say, "It's the same old story over again. Will Americans girls never cease 'breaking their necks' in the endeavor to gain a foreign title through marriage, only to discover later in some cases, that their titled idol has only feet of clay, and very often, large feet, too?"

IRONMASTER'S DAUGHTER.

The lady and the "tiger" in this case is Miss Elizabeth Mahen, daughter of the millionaire ironmaster, J. Mahen, of Birmingham, Ala., and the Count do Nascimento, attache of the Portuguese legation at the Quirinal, Rome, and who left there some time ago for Birmingham to wed Miss Mahen, but who is now back in Paris, unwed and without the Mahen dollars he so strongly counted upon.

The story, as it reaches the French capital, is that Miss Mahen, in order to comply with the pre-nuptial demands of the count (who, by the way, is only a Portuguese mount, and therefore does not count for much) changed her faith and became a Catholic. The wedding invitations had been sent out and the count had reached Birmingham for the purpose of taking one of the principal parts at the wedding, when it occurred to him that he might obtain a larger sum, as an allowance, than had been arranged for by issuing an ultimatum of "more money or no wedding" to his expected father-in-law. He discovered, however, that some American fathers are manly and independent enough not to submit to such "stand-and-deliver" methods, although one immensely wealthy New York parent whose daughter married a French count some years ago, who she has since divorced, consented to pay the increased amount demanded.

He caused his daughter to break off the engagement then and there. The count thereupon packed his trunk (there being nothing else for him to do) and left for Europe. Needless to say, his opinion of American fathers and their heiress daughters is not particularly high, but neither is that of those Americans immediately concerned, for the Portuguese nobleman.

Miss Mahen may have been disappointed in her ramblings, but in return Count do Nascimento has received a "stinging" the degree of which he is fully appreciating, for in shooting at a pigeon he hit a crow, losing his heiress and her large marriage allowance entirely.

Girl Overcomes NEGRO WHO ROBBED HER

ST. LOUIS—Without waiting for assistance from either the police or from citizens, Miss Pearl Roberson, 17 years old, with athletic training highly developed, protected herself from a negro highwayman, struggled with him, overcame him, beat him furiously in the face with the purse he would have stolen, and then chased him several blocks trying to capture him for the police.

Miss Roberson lives with her parents at 2149 Eugenia street. Tuesday night she left home early to attend a performance at a moving picture show on Market street. Confident in her own ability to protect herself from annoyance she was unaccompanied.

After witnessing the performance, at 9:30 o'clock she started for her home. She entered the Union Station train sheds from the Eighteenth street side and in her journey through the midway she observed a negro who appeared to be following her. Still she thought he would not have the audacity to attack her.

GIRL AND NEGRO CLINCH.

After she emerged on the Twentieth street side the negro ran up behind her and attempted to bind her with a piece of linen. Miss Roberson turned on her assailant and struck out with the vigor and precision of a trained athlete. They went to a clinch and fell together in the muddy street.

Miss Roberson still retained in her hand the large purse that had aroused the cupidity of the negro thief, and with this she struck him repeatedly in the face. In the struggle he managed to draw himself to his feet and ran. Then it was that Miss Roberson called for help. Several citizens and Sergt. Loepke responded, and though they pursued the negro for several blocks he got away in the railroad yards.

Miss Roberson was not injured, and aside from the mud that covered her dress, and the fact that she was somewhat wearied from the vigorous scuffle, she was uninjured. She is an enthusiast on physical training and has done some boxing. She is about 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs about 155 pounds.

Pretty Suffragette Studies Law by Absorption

NEW YORK.—Miss Inez Milholland, suffragette, strike picket, athlete, society girl of both London and New York and in general an exponent of militant womanhood, has stood in the limelight of publicity probably more times than any other woman of her age, not even excepting Miss Eleonora Sears, and now she has adopted a new role—she is studying law by "absorption."

Miss Milholland is regularly enrolled as a student at the New York University School of Law but the process of acquiring a legal education according to the system in vogue there is slow and tedious and includes much dry reading and no exciting practice until exciting practice has ever found favor with Miss Milholland.

In order to correct the deficiencies of the law school Miss Milholland has added to its course a regular attendance at the criminal courts building, where she sits through the trials listening to the examinations of witnesses—that's the way she is studying law—absorbing it—and trying to reason out for herself, when an answer is excluded or admitted over the objection of counsel.

"It is really intensely absorbing," said Miss Milholland as she sat in Judge Rolasky's court in General Sessions waiting for the opening of the Buell blackmail case. "Of course many things happen every day that I do not understand at the time, but they all make an impression on my mind and I am sure when I come to tackle 'Evidence' by the books that what I am listening to here will come back to me and help to make plain what might otherwise be mystifying.

"Reading the books is all right of course and must be done, but this seeing the actual practice, getting right into the actualities of the law, is much more interesting. I'm sure I'm absorbing the law here that will be invaluable to me when I come to practice myself.

"No, I'm not studying law with the particular idea that it will be an aid to me to the different causes I have espoused, like the suffragists and the poor shirtwaist strikers. My idea is to make myself independent. I want to feel that I am something more than a celebrity due to athletics, position or the championing of a cause in a manner to bring publicity. I want to feel that I can care for myself as well as try to care for others."

Start the New Year With a Savings Account

At this time careful business men balance their books to see if they are financially ahead of one year ago. This is what every one should do, whether in business for himself or working for others.

Are you satisfied with the result of your year's work—are you worth more today than the first of last January?

Systematic Savings Accounts are helping more people to financial independence than probably any other means. Open an account (with $1.00 or more) and promise yourself that during 1911 you will deposit a certain amount regularly. You will be surprised how easily this can be done once the habit is formed, and surprised again how rapidly the account will grow.

TRAIN ROBBERS SHOOT DOWN BRAVE MAIL CLERK

SOCIETY LEADERS TO BE SEEN IN CLEVER VAUDEVILLE FOR CHARITY

LADIES' RELIEF AT WORK ON LONG PROGRAM

Living Picture Will Be Main Feature of Event at the Macdonough.

ONE-ACT FARCE UNDER REHEARSAL FOR OCCASION

The Heads of Social Set Will Appear On Boards of Theater.

Rehearsals are in full swing for the vaudeville entertainment to be given for the benefit of the Ladies' Relief Society, next Tuesday evening, in the Macdonough Theater, where society maids and matrons will represent living pictures and clever songs, dances and sketches will be features of the program. Every performer is an artist and has displayed his ability in performances given in the past in this city.

The costumes will be original and the prettiest and most graceful young women of the exclusive social set of the bay region will impersonate the living pictures, which will be a notable attraction. Among those who will represent the pictures will be Miss Florence Henshaw, Mrs. Harry Chickering, Mrs. Paul Dinsmore, Mrs. Sydney Van Wyck, Mrs. Beach Soule, Mrs. Ketchum and Mrs. Dan Belden.

THEATER TREAT.

The theater-lovers of the bay cities will be given a treat on that occasion and many surprises are in store for the patrons, who will witness one of the most elaborate vaudeville productions Oakland has known. It will be under the personal direction of Frank Mathieu, who has won distinction for his clever work in coaching the Bohemian Club performances. In a recent interview he stated that no detail will be omitted in making the entertainment an artistic success. The cast has been well selected for all the individual stunts and every number will be enjoyed.

It is rumored that Harold Baxter, popular in club and social circles, is drilling an all-star cast for a catchy song and dance ensemble. He has selected some of the smartest young women of the elite set to take part and predicts that it will be one of the most fascinating stunts on the program. Among those in the company are Miss Ruth Hall, the Misses Laymance, Marjorie Page, Mary Henry and Harriet Stringham.

ONE-ACT FARCE.

A one-act farce entitled "The Rector" will be presented by Harris Allen, Mrs. Allen Babcock, who appeared as Rosalind in "As You Like It" given recently for charity; Miss Katherine McElrath, one of the gifted Thespians of the University of California; Helen Beckwith, Charlotte Kett, Mrs. W. L. Jones and Mrs. William Creed.

George Walker and Roy Folger, members of the Bohemian Club, will give their famous Chinese selections.

Among the vocalists who will give solos will be Miss Caroline Little and Mme. Eugene Neustadt, who will sing French songs in costume. Mrs. Josephine White will give a musical monologue.

The program has not as yet been completed as many society people of San Francisco will contribute their talent for charity. The women in charge of the affair say that $1000 must be realized in order to carry on the good work of the Ladies' Relief Society, which shelters about eighty-five old ladies and children.

According to the manner in which the tickets are being disposed of the Macdonough Theater will be filled on that occasion. The charitable people as well as the social leaders have pledged their support to the cause.

EXCESS OF MORE THAN $60,000,000 IN THE BANK CLEARINGS FOR OAKLAND

Tremendous Increase Over Figures for 1909 Noted; Public Confidence Totally Restored

The Oakland Clearing-house has compiled the bank clearings of the year 1910 which show a grand total of $157,480,688.92, or an excess of $60,953,600.83 over the total clearings of the year 1909. The largest previous record of bank clearings in Oakland was in 1907 when they totaled $140,416,038.98. The bank clearings of 1910 were, therefore, $17,064,649.94 in excess of those of 1907.

Effect of New York Panic

The close of the year 1907 witnessed the big financial panic which started in Wall street and wrecked half a dozen banks in New York City and created financial distress and stringency all over the United States and in the money centers of Europe. The effect in Oakland resulted in the withdrawal of an enormous sum of money from circulation. There was a shrinkage of over $63,000,000 in the bank clearings of 1908, as compared with the record of 1907, which indicated the vast sum of money that went into hiding that year as a result of the panic and the weakening of public confidence in the banks. In the year 1909 a large portion of this hidden wealth came out of its place of concealment, as shown in the fact that the bank clearings of that year was practically $20,000,000 in excess of the year 1908.

Public Confidence Is Restored

The bank clearings record of the year 1910 prove conclusively that public confidence has been fully restored, the money that went into hiding at the beginning of 1908 is again in circulation and the business of the year has increased $17,000,000 over the best previous year in Oakland's history, which is an irrefutable evidence of the increase of population and all the productive resources of this city and of Alameda county.

PICKERAL PLAYS TAG WITH CITY JAILERS

Declaring that his wife was being induced to remain in a lodging house at 416 Eighth street, John Pickeral, who yesterday terminated a three days' sentence in the city jail for disorderly conduct, appeared at the place this morning and created a scene in which the landlady and several boarders were unwilling witnesses until a call was made on the police, who intervened and quieted the gathering.

Upon his release yesterday Pickeral was again placed under arrest on the charge of defrauding an innkeeper and released on bail. He immediately commenced a hunt for the woman he claims is his wife in spite of the fact that acquaintances declare that he has another wife living in Portland.

STARK REFUSES TO PAY WIFE ALIMONY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—Friends, determined to aid his enforced martyrdom this morning appeared in Judge Cabaniss' court in behalf of William Stark, formerly a liquor dealer, who has been languishing in the county jail for contempt of court because of his refusal to pay his wife $100 back alimony. Stark has been in jail since January 9, 1910, and today the case was called on habeas corpus proceedings.

Pending the hearing of the matter, which was put over until Monday, the court fixed bonds at $500 with the alternative of $50 cash. Stark declares that he will pay the alimony only if his child is given to him, but he may be liberated on bail. Meantime Judge Cabaniss will confer with Judge Troutt who originally committed the prisoner.

LITTLE DRUNKENNESS; MUCH HORSE BEATING

BERKELEY, Jan. 5.—Berkeley has established a unique record as a city which will not tolerate cruelty to animals. Of the 139 arrests made by the police department during the last six months 52 were on charges of cruelty to animals, these offenders heading the list in number. There were but 14 arrests in the dry city for drunkenness in the half-year, there being an equal number of persons charged with contempt of court. Twelve vagrants and an equal number of petty larcenists were taken into custody.

SYMBOL 'S' CUT ON CHEEK OF SLAIN MAN

Element of Mystery in Murder of Joseph Beron by the Houndsditch Gang.

New York Police Laugh at the London Police Fight Against Anarchists.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Another element of mystery developed today in the inquest into the death of Joseph Beron, whose mutilated body was found on Clapham corner last Sunday. The murder is attributed by the police to the Houndsditch anarchist-burglar gang, two members of which were killed in the raid on their den Tuesday.

The persons who examined Beron's body said that they found on each cheek clearly cut the form of the letter "S." The police declare this deliberate cutting is obviously symbolical of a secret society. They had never seen anything of the sort before. The inquest was adjourned to January 30.

SIGN OF ORDER.

The police accept the theory that Beron was killed by the members of an organization who left the sign of their order on the face of the victim.

The police are not satisfied that "Peter the Painter" was one of the two men killed in the Sydney street battle and are now working on the theory that he is alive and at large.

Throughout the night 200 armed officers searched the district of the East End and another spectacular fight is feared should the fugitive be cornered.

DEPLORE BATTLE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The manner in which American police are likely to regard the efforts of the London police in dealing with their two anarchist foes on Tuesday is indicated by interviews with a number of New York police officials published here today. These officials declare unanimously there never was a time in the history of any big American city when such a thing could have occurred.

"I cannot conceive of a few men getting into a house in New York, barricading themselves and so harrassing the police that troops would have to be called," said Inspector Williams, who has been a member of the New York force for thirty odd years. "If the affair resolves itself into a shooting match, the police would be more than able to hold their own."

POOR FAIRY TALE.

"The story from London reads to me like a poor fairy tale," said Inspector Brooks. "Such a thing would be impossible in any American city. Six policemen from any precinct in New York could have gone into that London house with their night sticks and taken those fellows out of it, and probably without bloodshed. It is all right to argue that the London policemen were not armed with revolvers, but that does not make any difference to the main in New York. They would go in with or without firearms."

WHY NOT WARSHIPS?

"Why did not the Londoners call out the warships?" asked Inspector Thompson when his opinion of the London affair was sought. "New York police laugh at the idea of troops and firemen being called on for assistance against a lone pair of offenders. If it took a thousand policemen, together with troops, firemen and gatling guns to arrest two men in New York the force would get a pretty thorough overhauling in a minute. If we had those two anarchists here we would send the policeman on the post after them single handed. If he could not get them, he would call for the reserves, and they would batter down the door."

BIBB SURRENDERS ON FRAUD CHARGE

Lumber Magnate Accused of Swindling ex-Boss Chris Buckley.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—E. H. Bibb Sr., a wealthy contractor and lumber dealer, indicted by the grand jury on September 30, surrendered himself in Superior Judge Lawlor's court this morning and was immediately released on bonds.

Following the returning of a true bill against him, Bibb was located in Washington, D. C., and was marked down on Judge Lawlor's calendar as a fugitive. The district attorney was preparing to have him brought here on extradition papers when the surrender was made today.

Judge Morgan, sitting for Judge Lawlor, fixed bonds at $5000, which were furnished by L. and Leo Hirschfeld, of Bakersfield. Bibb is accused of having sold for the second time a piece of land which he deeded to Chris Buckley. His son was recently sent to San Quentin penitentiary for a long term for passing a fictitious check.

Many Gather at Bier Of Timothy L. Barker

PIONEER CITIZEN IS TAKEN TO LAST RESTING PLACE

Large Concourse of Friends at Funeral of Beloved Forty-niner.

HE WAS NOTED FOR HIS PUBLIC SPIRIT

Pastor Pays Glowing Tribute to Argonaut Called by Death.

Funeral services for Timothy Leonard Barker a resident of California since the days of '49 and a pioneer of Oakland were held from his late residence 1119 Castro street at 2:30 this afternoon. Many friends and associates of the aged pioneer were present to honor his memory at the last rites for a representative citizen of the State and community. Flowers of every kind filled the rooms, the tribute of those who had held the argonaut in high esteem. Several songs by a quartette furnished the music for the ceremony in commemoration of the long life and honorable qualities of the dead man.

The gathering at the home was representative of the leading citizens of San Francisco and this city with whom the deceased had been associated in the many years of his residence in this State. Prominent men of every calling were present to do honor to one who was well known among them since the early days of the commonwealth, and at whose passing one more of the high spirits who had helped make the greatness of the State was removed.

MANY ATTEND.

The Society of California Pioneers of which the dead man was an honored member, sent a delegation from San Francisco to be present at the services, and the San Francisco lodge of the I. O. O. F. in which Barker once held the highest office in the gift of the lodge, sent a number of its members to attend the ceremony. The pallbearers comprised some of the leading financiers of this city. Many in humble walks of life also were present for the deceased had been well known among people of every station.

Following is the tribute of the Rev. F. L. Goodspeed:

It has been well said by another that "We go to the grave of a friend saying, 'A man is dead,' but angels throng about him, saying, 'A man is born.'" Thus may we say of our aged friend lying here, that he has reached the consummation and the crown. He did not fear the end, but looked forward to it with anticipation and with hope.

AN HONOR TO ALL.

What a man is in business or in any capacity, whether of private or public life, resolves itself back into what he is as a man. For a man is a man before he is a merchant or a manufacturer or a minister or anything else. And what he is as a man, what he is in his character and ideals colors all his deeds and determines his action in all the departments and relationships of life. In honoring Mr. Barker we honor ourselves. He does not need our praise. His life, as we look back upon it has spoken its own best eulogium. Born in Connecticut, he embodied the best elements of the New England spirit reverence and the New England spirit, reverence and the sublime nature, crossed deserts and seas and built the institutions of civilization across this continent from Maine to California. He worked hard as a boy, had that best discipline of toil and of life on the farm that college which teaches self-reliance and thrift and keen observation. He went to school, laid the foundation of a busy, honorable and successful life.

At the middle of last century, when the tales of wealth and golden opportunity in California were stirring the ambitions and the imagination of the youth of the East, he embarked with 225 fellow voyagers in a cruise around the Horn, a modern argonaut seeking the unknown, and since that day has been closely identified with the business and political fortunes of this commonwealth. Of that company that came by ship in 1849 and resident in California he was the last survivor. His life seemed to be a part of the experiences and struggles and vicissitudes and victories of those early days. He belonged to the honorable company of those who found here something more than gold, men like Bret Harte who came for gold and found thoughts and emotions and culture and the finer and higher elements and qualities of intellectual life.

His business career was characterized by honor conducing to success and his public service by unselfishness and endeavor for the public good. In everything he touched he sought for the real values in life and he had a profound insight into the things really worth while. With a refined rather than an extravagant taste, an ear open to all appeals for sympathy and help, and a heart ever ready to respond, he was gentle in manner, frank in expression, transparent in motive, noble in his ideals of honor and the worth and weight of truth. An optimist by nature, his presence was sunshine and his greeting was good cheer. He lived in an atmosphere of good will and without parade or seeming effort compelled the higher motives to control and uplift alike the common life of business and his public service.

LOVED HIS CITY.

Like all good citizens, Mr. Barker loved his city and was intensely interested in its progress and development along the higher lines. He served it with conspicuous ability and sincere disinterestedness. He stood by that right which is "the sacrifice of self to good"; he renounced that wrong which is "the sacrifice of good to self." His whole life, public and private, was on the principle so well expressed by the poet:

"Take thou no care for aught but truth and right.
Content, if such thy fate, to die obscure:
Wealth palls, and honors: fame may not endure;
And loftier souls soon weary of delight.
Keep innocence, be all a true man ought;
Let neither pleasure tempt nor pain appall:
Who hath this, he hath all things, saving naught;
Who hath it not hath nothing, having all."

THE LATE TIMOTHY L. BARKER, pioneer.

A KINDLY SPIRIT.

Mr. Barker's later years have been characterized by a sweetness of disposition, a fine courtesy, a geniality and a kindly spirit which made him beloved by all who came into contact with him. He radiated sunshine. He grew old gracefully and uncomplainingly, and wore with dignity and grace his silver crown. Remarkable patience was exhibited through his long decline, and his spirit of cheerfulness sustained him to the end. Free from any tinge of animosity or ill will, he awaited the future confidently, and when his time came in God's ordainment, he passed gently to where beyond these earthly shadows and these human voices there is rest and peace. As he had looked for the best in men, so he believed the best of the future and its revelations and rewards. We think of him as one who had that charity that "suffereth long and is kind," as having lived a life in which the angel song of "Peace on earth, good will to men" was re-echoed and fulfilled.

BORN IN CONNECTICUT.

Barker was born in Bradford, Conn., in 1828, and worked there on his father's farm until he was fourteen years old, when he entered the academy at Auburn, N. Y. After completing a course there he became one of the Cayuga Joint stock company, and sailed on the bark Belvidera, to make the voyage around the Horn to the new golden state, arriving in California October 2, 1849. He was a continuous resident of the state from that time until his death, and his fortunes are closely interwoven with those of the commonwealth. The winter of '49 he spent at the Aqua Fria claims in Mariposa county. After several years of mining Barker farmed on a ranch near Hayward, Alameda county for two years.

Barker was a member of the grocery firm of Booth & Co., of Sacramento, from 1856 to 1863, and in 1868 became a member of the firm of Wellman, Peck & Co. of San Francisco, remaining with them until his retirement in 1883. He had lived in San Francisco from 1856 to 1874, when he moved to Oakland, which since has been his home.

SERVED AS COUNCILMAN.

Barker was appointed a trustee of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum by Governor Booth, and served as councilman in Oakland from 1885 to 1889, declining a second nomination. He was a member of the Society of California Pioneers of San Francisco since its inception, and also of the San Francisco chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution. He was also a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, in which he was elected to the highest office in the lodge, that of noble grand, to which he was elected from the floor.

During his long residence in Oakland since the year 1874, Barker was noted for his public spirit and progressiveness and for his deep interest in the welfare of the city on all occasions. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Mary Simpson Barker, and a daughter, Mrs. Wallace W. Alexander.

SEEK TRAIN BANDITS IN SOUND CITY

Police Believe Men Who Looted North Coast Limited Are Hiding in Seattle

Wounded Mail Clerk Complimented for Bravery in Telling Story to Officers

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 5.—The two robbers who looted the mail car of the North Coast Limited train of the Northern Pacific soon after it left the station last night and who shot Mail Clerk Harry O. Clark of Spokane, undoubtedly left the train at Argo, where the train stopped because of a crossing, and they are now believed to be in Seattle.

Clark, who is 22 years of age and of fine physical health, may recover. His registered mail valise, which the robbers stole, was found today where the robbers dropped it after taking the mail.

It is not known how much loot the robbers obtained. The post office receipts will show what packages were taken, but not their contents.

CLEAR SUSPECTS.

Two suspects arrested at Kent do not answer the description given by Clark and Charles Reid, the other clerk. The motorman of a South Seattle street car reported to the police that two men answering the description of the robbers had come into Seattle soon after the North Coast Limited passed Argo.

A report received from Kanaskat, east of Auburn, where the robbery was discovered, said that Clark Reid had checked over the mail pouches and found little missing besides the valuable registered packages in Clark's valise, which was stolen. The transfer clerk at the King-street station said that he gave Clark twenty of these packages just before the train started. Postoffice inspectors are checking the records to determine the value of the mail that was stolen.

PRAISE CLERK.

Mail Clerk Clark, who was shot in the mouth and was seriously injured was highly complimented by the postoffice and railway officials and the police for the fortitude displayed in refusing to go to the hospital until he had given the officers all the information he had concerning the robbery.

Clark was unable to speak, but bravely wrote his report while blood dripping from his mouth spattered on the paper.

The robbery last night was similar in many respects to the holdup of an express car on one of the Great Northern's trains here three years ago, when a bandit boarded the train just as it was pulling out of the station, entered the express car while it was in the tunnel under the city, killed the messenger and made his escape.

Ternan, who discovered the place ablaze while on his way to the Potrero police station. Mellerman at the first sight of flames in the interior of the building, rushed in and extinguished them with a patent extinguisher.

GIRL ARRESTED ON SPEEDING CHARGE

Miss Ruth Flynn Accused of Exceeding Speed Limit in Automobile.

The Berkeley Police Round Up Many for Alleged Violations of the Law.

BERKELEY Jan 5—As detailed in THE TRIBUNE yesterday the Berkeley police are beginning a determined crusade against speeding automobilists and against children who drive machines carelessly or rapidly through the streets. Policemen Morrill Lee and Davis late yesterday afternoon began rounding up those who were driving at excessive speed or whose machines were without numbers on the headlights. Ten were arrested before the middle of the evening, the same number that was taken into custody the preceding night.

Among those arrested last evening was Miss Ruth Flynn, 15-year-old daughter of Professor W Earl Flynn. She was driving a machine in which were her mother and three girl companions. Plain clothes men took her into custody at the corner of Telegraph and Ashby avenues asserting that she was driving the auto at the rate of 37 miles an hour. The party was taken to the police station, where the girl was released on her own recognizance to appear in Police Judge Edgar's court tomorrow afternoon. Her case will probably be placed in the hands of the juvenile court.

WOMAN INDIGNANT

Mrs Flynn showed much indignation at the time of the arrest as well as today in speaking of the affair. She declared the officers unduly rough in their manner of making the arrest, asserting that one of them exhibited a revolver. Neither she nor her daughter, said Mrs Flynn this morning, were able to sleep last night owing to the excitement of the incident.

My daughter has driven our car for the past three years and is a very careful driver, competent to manage the machine at all times, said Mrs Flynn today.

BELIEVED IT HOLDUP.

We were not going over 12 or 15 miles an hour as we had just crossed the car tracks at Ashby and Telegraph avenues. My daughter thought we were being held up, for the men did not show their authority at first. She was very much frightened and almost lost control of the wheel. The officers got into the car and ordered us to drive to the police station. I offered to go alone and permit the girls to continue on their way to an afternoon party, but this was denied. The arrest took place about 4:30 o'clock. I consider the action of the officers unjustifiable.

I thought the officer with the revolver was drunk when he rushed into the street and commanded us to stop if we did not wish our heads blown off.

Professor Flynn, father of the girl, who is a lecturer, is absent in the east. The family resides [illegible] Dunn [illegible] street [illegible] Ashby avenue.

Policemen Morrill, Lee and Davis deny that any one of them displayed firearms at the time of the arrest.

OTHERS JAILED

The other nine violators of the automobile regulations governing speed and headlight numbers were J W Cu[illegible]h, ing contractor G W Routledge chauffeur, Horace C Watson conductor, Thoma A Cordel, William J H[illegible] salesman Henry P Squire merchant, Dr William P B Bush dentist and Victor J Inger Napoleon B Doug[illegible] manufacturer Chester L Ekstrom electrician.

All were released on bail and are to appear in court tomorrow.

Chief of Police Vollmer stated this morning that under the law an officer would be justified in displaying a revolver in making such an arrest, although he has instructed his men not to do so in such cases and sincerely desires that they should not.

"The officer, if he showed a revolver, probably intended to shoot the automobile tires in case the driver would not stop or perhaps exhibited the weapon in fear that he might be run down," said Chief Vollmer.

SAN LORENZO TRUCK FARMS ARE LAID OUT

SAN LORENZO Jan [illegible] Several hundred acres of land in this vicinity on which were recently harvested large crops of tomatoes are now being cleared of the dry vines which are turned, the ground plowed, harrowed and made ready to plant to early peas and other vegetables. The alluvial lands east of San Lorenzo creek and adjacent to the county road from Leandro to Hayward are usually so saturated with water at this season of the year as to be impossible of cultivation until much later. This season the lack of rain has left these low lands in prime condition for the planting of early crops of table vegetables and the owners are taking advantage of the situation.

PROTESTANTS TO START CIRCULATION OF PETITION

Find Difficulty On Account of Ownership of Lot; Several Ordinances Passed.

BERKELEY Jan 5—A muddled situation and division among the citizens of the town of Albany at the northern edge of Berkeley have resulted from the efforts of the town authorities to decide upon a site for the proposed new town hall.

The purchase of a lot for the municipal structure is apparently as momentous and difficult an undertaking as the erection of the building itself, of which the town is badly in need.

The board of trustees last Tuesday night passed an ordinance to enter into a contract with the County Line Land Company for the purchase of a lot at the northeast corner of Washington avenue and San Pablo avenue. A large number of citizens are opposed to the site declaring that it is not a central location for the new hall. A petition will probably be circulated by the protestants during the coming week for presentation to the board of trustees.

MAZE OF LEGISLATION

The ordinance looking toward the purchase is part of a maze of legislation by the town trustees and may be of no avail as the matter of being about to buy the lot is problematical.

Last fall a similar ordinance providing for the purchase of the same lot was passed by the board but Frank Roberts, then president of the board refused to sign it partly on the ground that the site was not the best or at all satisfactory. Roberts was ousted from the presidency of the board two months ago. A fortnight ago an ordinance was passed annulling the purchasing ordinance and last Tuesday night a new measure was passed in order to enter into a contract to buy the lot. The legislation was necessary on account of the reorganization of the board, with George W Brown as the new president, or mayor. The price to be paid for the lot is $1700.

FIGURE PROTEST.

Former Mayor Roberts contended that this figure was excessive and urged that there was a difficulty owing to the lot having been sold some time ago by the land company to one who is paying for it on the installment plan.

A site on the corner of Cornell avenue and Main street has been suggested as a better location which may be bought for $1500.

RAILROAD BORES NINETY-SIX WELLS

Western Pacific to Prosecute Vigorously Search for Water.

FRUITVALE Jan 5 — Well-boring crews in the employ of the Western Pacific Railroad Company, it is learned, are to bore ninety-six wells at various stations, sidings and switching points along the company's line beginning at West Oakland and extending to Honey Lake valley in Nevada. Some of these wells along the right of way of the Western Pacific in Brooklyn and Eden townships of Alameda county will search for artesian water, while others must be content with a supply of surface or what is known as "sand well" water.

Well-borer John W Bankhead stated today that it had been found impossible to obtain artesian water in either the Southern Pacific or Western Pacific yards at West Oakland but that along the lines of both roads east of Grove street such water is obtainable.

MANY AT WORK.

In addition to boring wells for the railway company crews are at present engaged in sinking wells at Broadmoor for the Smith-Tevis realty interests, and yet another crew is sinking wells near the old Redwood road at the north end of Allendale. In fact the search for water in underground channels at present is being extensively prosecuted throughout the eastern end of Alameda county by railway, realty and numerous manufacturing interests.

OYSTER PRODUCERS MAKE STATEMENT

Scientific Men Give Opinions Concerning Healthfulness of Eastern Product.

Apropos of the agitation lately started on the coast by certain chemists relative to the healthfulness of the eastern oysters shipped to California in ice packed chests, the producers at South Norwalk, Connecticut, have issued the following statements.

These opinions are furnished by eminent experts such as Dr H D Pease, chairman board Lederle Laboratory of New York, Dr Ryder, United States Fish Commissioner, and Dr J T Willard in the Journal of American Chemical Society.

As relates to copper in oysters and green coloration, first proof and data to submit to newspapers or others that we know of is as follows—quoted from report Dr Ryder, United States Fish Commission, eighteen eighty [illegible] volume three, pages two eighty-one to two-ninety-four. Fifty years chemical, bacteriological, physical and gastronomic [illegible] which had been tried at the instance of various investigators has shown that the consumption of greenish oysters is never attended with evil results. In fact it has been proved that the green color is in no way due to copper, as has been asserted by ignorant or prejudiced persons. In truth the color is due to a harmless vegetable coloring matter absorbed from the blue green algae, harmless water plants upon which the oyster feeds and is very nearly identical in composition with chlorophyll, the green coloring matter found in the leaves of green vegetables. Experiments have demonstrated that [illegible] such quantity of a copper salt which would produce the green [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. It is [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] up to the point when they will [illegible] much [illegible] the [illegible] of the belief that the green color of oysters is due to copper. I submit that [illegible] the doctrine that the green color of oysters is due to copper is utterly fallacious and without a shadow of foundation in fact. Then we would also quote the following sentence from statement by Dr J T Willard in the Journal of the American Chemical Society, May nineteen hundred eight, as follows:

Investigations have shown that copper in minute quantities is probably a normal constituent of all oysters.

We consider the above statements as infallible proofs.

Lederle Laboratories, H D Pease, M D, Director Dept of Bacteriology.

Statement received from H D Pease of Lederle Laboratories on Greenings.

New York City, Dec 11, 1910.

I think the best way to answer the numerous attacks made in San Francisco papers on Greenish Oysters is to quote [illegible] chapter [illegible] from the report of the United States Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries for 1891, page 437. It is entitled Greenings, and reads as follows:

Notwithstanding that almost every recent writer upon the subject has insisted upon the harmlessness of the green coloration frequently observed in certain portions of the oysters, there is still considerable misapprehension of the subject by consumers and oystermen alike. This prejudice is confined to America. In Europe such oysters are regarded as superior and much trouble is taken to impart to them this peculiar quality.

In our waters the greening is liable to occur in certain localities and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] below waters [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the production of this effect than the greater depths [illegible] it has [illegible] appeared on [illegible] beds of Long Island Sound.

When [illegible] oysters come to do so the oystermen find great difficulty in disposing of them, owing to the popular belief that they are unfit for food or even poisonous. Such oysters often have what is considered as a coppery taste and uninformed persons usually infer that the green color is due to the presence of copper. The green color is derived from a harmless blue [illegible] substance [illegible] [illegible] which is found in certain [illegible] [illegible].

[illegible]

In conclusion it may be again insisted that the greening is not a disease nor a parasite nor a poisonous material in any sense.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) Lederle Laboratories

SUGGESTS WAY TO CAPTURE SPEEDERS

Alameda Police Chief Favors Having Plain Clothes Men in Fast Autos.

ALAMEDA, Jan —Chief of Police John Conrad, while believing that some concerted action should be taken by the police chiefs of Alameda, Oakland and Berkeley for the arrest and punishment of speeding autoists, does not agree with Captain of Detectives Walter J Peterson of Oakland, who favors issuing an order to patrolmen to shoot the offending chauffeurs in case they injure anyone and refuse to stop when commanded.

Chief Conrad does not believe that such action would come within the law but declares that the Los Angeles method of apprehending joy riders could be followed with advantage by the east bay cities.

"In Los Angeles the police department owns two speedy runabouts that are constantly on the streets in charge of plain clothes men. They are capable of making ninety miles an hour and but few speed burners escape them," said Conrad in talking of the system in the southern city.

"These two runabouts bring the city between $600 and $700 a month in fines and joy riders are becoming chary of breaking the speed laws when they are sure to be captured.

"The Los Angeles method is to have both machines out on the streets and boulevards at all times of the day and night. The plain clothes men are changed every day or so that people will not become familiar with their appearance. The two police cars have no distinguishing marks and resemble hundreds of other machines you see on the streets every day.

"When the police party sees anyone breaking the speed laws they give chase and it is but seldom that the speeder is not overhauled and haled into court and then made to pay a fine.

"This method would work successfully here especially along the Hayward boulevard or East Fourteenth street where so many auto accidents have occurred."

Town Aroused Over Failure to Stop Automobile Scorchers.

Law to Be Rigidly Enforced, Is Ultimatum of the Mayor.

HAYWARD Jan — Apparently scenting an impending grilling by indignant residents Town Marshal Charles Shilling last night was not in attendance at the meeting of the board of Town Trustees. The subject of automobile speeding on the streets was the previously announced theme of discussion. A committee from the Hill and Valley Women's Club and many citizens of the sterner sex were on hand to express their views and incidentally to show their [illegible] at the town marshal for his asserted neglect to enforce the ordinance prohibiting auto speeding and bicycle riding on the sidewalks by bicycle riders.

WOLGAST RIGHT IN BEING SURE ARM IS STRONG

Lightweight Champ Wants to Be Fit Before Signing With Moran

By EDDIE SMITH.

A short time ago the newspaper critics of the East and a few here were roasting Ad Wolgast because he would not announce the time that he would be ready to again enter the ring. The reply of the little champion to the effect that he would do so when his arm had healed sufficiently to warrant his taking a chance did not please them and he was again roasted when he announced that the attending physician had warned him not to even think of making a start before February of this year.

After having broken the arm twice it would seem to me that the champion displayed good judgment in not wanting to take a chance of again injuring it by starting too soon. In a great many cases the writers have looked upon the excuses as jokes, however and the little German has had to withstand some cutting criticism while taking things easy waiting for the arm to mend.

Now the same critics are mad because Wolgast will take on one six round contest in the East as a tryout and will then take on George Memsic for twenty rounds at Los Angeles. The critics cry that Wolgast should give Owen Moran the first chance but in doing so they seem to overlook the fact that both Wolgast and the public are entitled to know whether or not this broken arm is going to heal sufficiently to warrant the people paying their money to see Wolgast and Moran.

CASE OF CHICAGO JACK.

Suppose Wolgast should agree to take Moran on first and his arm gave back on him after the first few rounds, ending the battle in a fiasco, do you think the same critics who are urging him on would take any of the blame? You can bet they wouldn't. Then it would all be Wolgast's fault. Those of the fans who will remember the experience we had with Chicago Jack Moffitt here some few years ago will agree with me when I say that Wolgast is showing excellent judgment. Chicago Jack was as keen a pugilist as ever came to this coast. It was he who first put the rollers under Al Neill when the people on this coast thought Al the coming champion of the world. Moffitt did his work so neatly that he was immediately matched with George Gardner, then considered one of the best of the middle-weight prospects. In this bout Moffitt dislocated his shoulder in the fourth round and the contest was stopped. The fans craved the chance to see the Chicago lad in action in a hurry and he was again matched. For the second time the fans who paid admission price were treated to a fiasco on the account of his shoulder and in a few months the third test proved just as disappointing. The meaning of this is to show just what it means to start too soon with broken or dislocated bones.

For our part we fully expect Wolgast to meet Moran and if there was the slightest indication of a run out on the part of the champion we would not hesitate to say so. In his determination to thoroughly try his arm out before he tackles the hard game, however, we are with him and it is our hope that he will stick to the present plans of making sure he is fit before taking on any of the hard game of the lightweight division.

GOOD CARD ARRANGED

Matchmaker Moffitt has completed the card that the Oakland Wheelmen will stage here one week from tomorrow night. The card will be the first of the boxing matches to be offered the Oakland fans this month and it must be admitted that if Moffitt keeps up the good work he has started with his selections for this month the Wheelmen shows should be well worth the trouble. The card as arranged for his show is a dandy. In the main event Antone La Grave will meet Jimmy Fitton. This battle should be productive of six fast rounds of milling such as the fans will delight in witnessing.

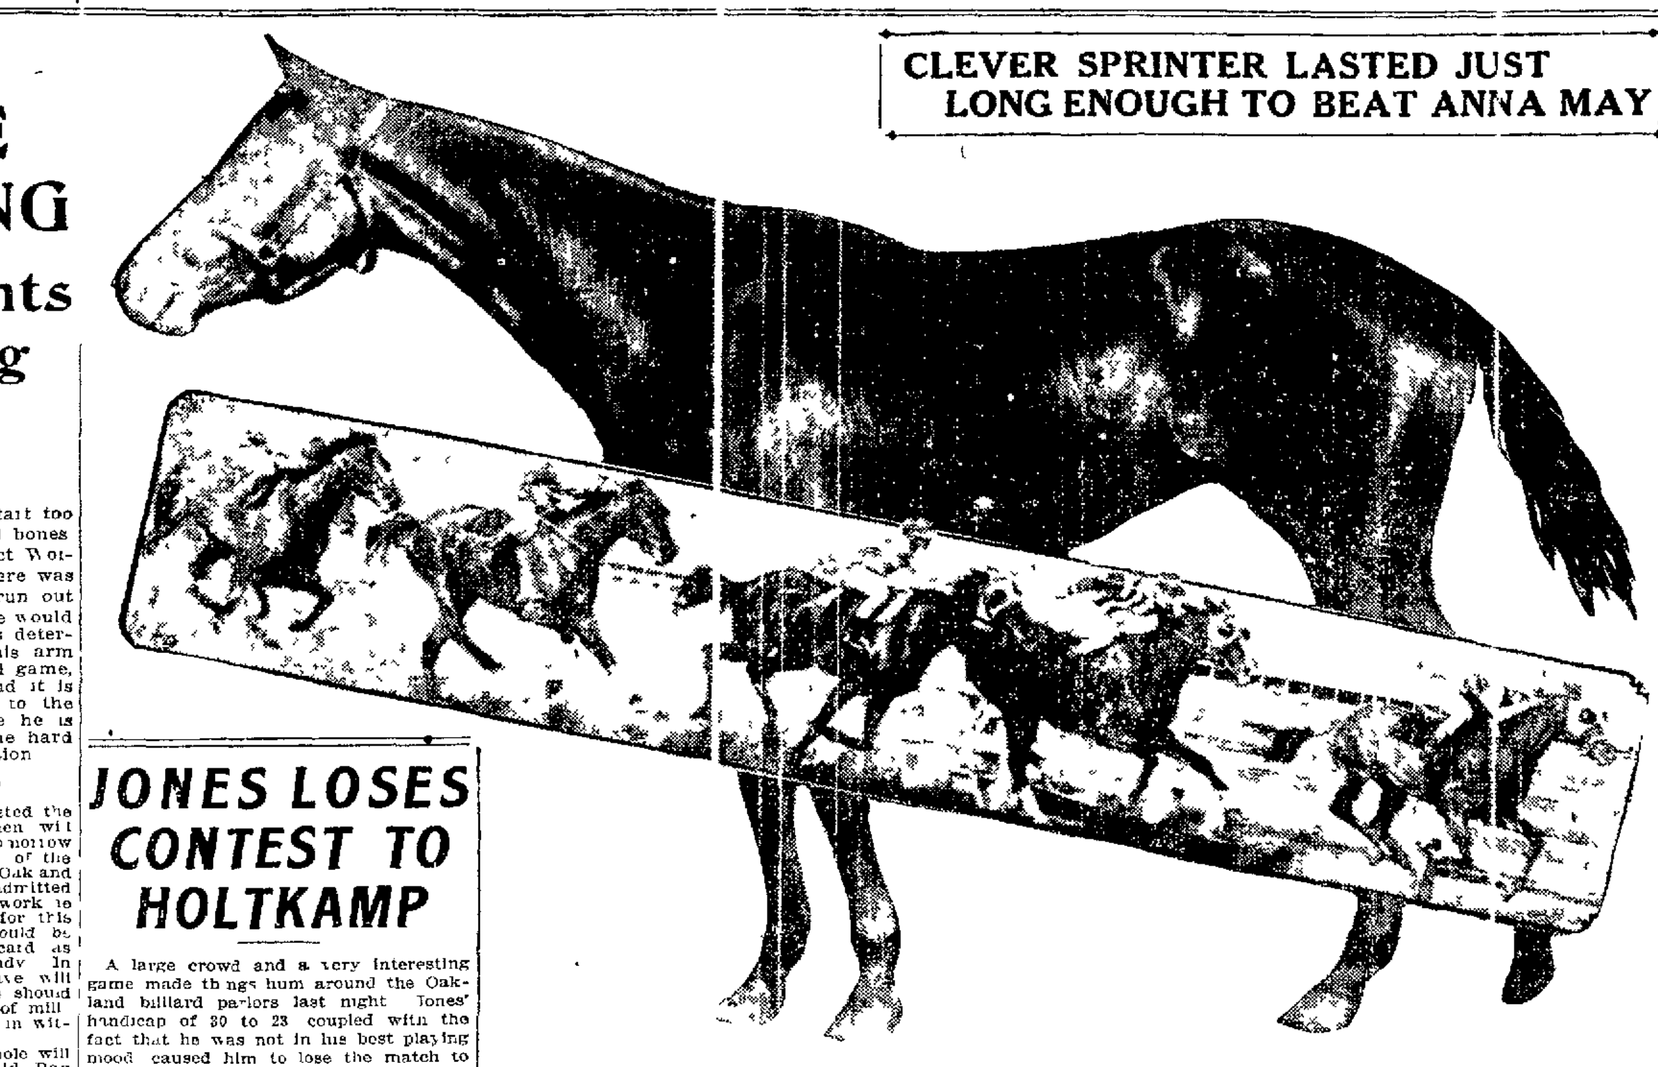

In the special events Willie Canole will tackle the game little Petaluma kid Ray Baughman and Charlie Rogers will try his hand on the clever George Kirkwood. In the preliminaries Robert Best will meet Eddie Hardes and Dutch Schreeder will try his hand again in a match with Ray Campbell. There is to be one more four round bout. Such card is indeed an attractive one for the opening show of the year.

From Milwaukee comes word that Freddie Welsh and Packey McFarland have been matched for their fourth meeting. Two of the other meetings have resulted in draws and the first ten-round affair at Milwaukee resulted in a close decision being given to McFarland. McFarland and Welsh have been bitter enemies ever since that meeting and each time they come together there is sure to be some trouble. This time Welsh is trying to bind the American down to 133 pounds at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the battle. It is announced that the Chicago lad has accepted the terms but we hardly believe it for he has repeatedly refused to make the lightweight limit at any time during the day for a scrap in this country.

GIVING AWAY WEIGHT

Welsh will be giving away weight at that figure but the stockyards lad will have such a time getting down to the mark that he will no doubt weaken himself. McFarland is at present in Kansas City where he is to meet Johnnie McCarthy next Monday night in a ten round contest which we are sure McCarthy will be sorry for before the contest has gone many rounds.

Packey is a big fellow whose natural weight should put him in the welterweight class and how in the world he is to make the weight for the Welsh contest is more than we can figure. Hugh McIntosh will promote the contest at the Olympia in London and McFarland insists that Eugene Corri act as referee.

CLEVER SPRINTER LASTED JUST LONG ENOUGH TO BEAT ANNA MAY

JONES LOSES CONTEST TO HOLTKAMP

A large crowd and a very interesting game made things hum around the Oakland billiard parlors last night. Jones' handicap of 30 to 23 coupled with the fact that he was not in his best playing mood caused him to lose the match to Holtkamp by a 23 to 23 score.

The closeness of the score shows what a hard fought contest it was. Holtkamp's determined fight for every point made any gain for Jones out of the question and more especially as the element of luck generally resulted in Holtkamp's favor and was responsible for at least two of his skiddoo score. In this particular instance every point was of material consequence and looked as big as silver dollars to William.

By winning this game Holtkamp strengthens his standing and brings Jones, Gilbert and himself to a tie at 4 2 with one game for each yet to play.

San Diego Ready For Polo Tourney

SAN DIEGO, Jan 5.—Coronado's winter program of sports will be opened at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when the Coronado and Pasadena polo teams take the field for the first game.

Six poloists came down with the Pasadena delegation. The members of the Weiss family—Reggie, Bernie, Tom and Harry, who formerly constituted the Southwest Club—will play on the Pasadena team. There are several expert poloists who are eligible for the Coronado team, Major Colin G. Ross, Harry Scott, Walter Dupee, Fritz Nave, Frank Belcher and Captain J. C. Besley are all players of many years experience and the club which will defend the local colors will be chosen from those named.

With field and ponies in excellent condition the matches should be closely contested and give each club experience needed to play a strong game in the big tournament that will be held in March.

TALENT FARES BADLY IN FIVE OF SIX RACES

Change of Riders Proves to Be Advantageous to No Quarter

The big mid-week crowd of racing enthusiasts which made the pilgrimage to the Oakland track yesterday afternoon encountered a series of upsets and surprises when it matched its opinions and dollars against those of the layers in an effort to call the winners before the races had been run and in every event but one, the final race, the layers finished on the credit side of the ledger, while the talent pulled up sadly disabled in the region of the bank roll. Practically every choice on the card was bowled over. Quality Street, the winner of the closing event, shared favoritism with Frank G. Hogan, which finished second. The other five winners, some of them heavily played, ranged in price from 4 to 1 to 12 to 1.

Change of riders worked wonders with No Quarter. With Fischer in the pilot box he ran to his race of a little more than a week ago and quoted at 12 to 1, the same odds as prevailed on the Viking gelding on the occasion of his last victory, he took up the running on the last turn and won the fourth race of the big program from Raleigh, another outsider, and Arionette, the odds on favorite. Fisher had the mount on Bassett's runner when he won his last race. Since then he has started twice, one being ridden by Thomas and on the other occasion by Cross and finished unplaced in both starts.

Arionette heavily played in what seemed to be an easy spot for her looked as though she might outgame the winner in the stretch but when called upon by Pickens she did not respond and lost the place to Raleigh which closed like a cyclone. The latter would have accounted the winner into camp in another stride or two.

* * *

Pickaninny was boss the best of the mediocre field which sported six in the opening scramble. The start was straggling but Kederis soon sent the Cesarion filly to the front and she left the others like a rabbit darting away from a pack of hounds breezing under the wire fifteen lengths to the good. The real contest was for the place. Osaudem Meliin ... Maxine came tearing down the stretch ... head separating the trio finished as named above. Meda was the lukewarm choice at 12 to 5 and the winner the 4 to 5 second choice.

* * *

After an early brush with Burning Bush, Evran drew away and under a hard drive cleverly took the second race which was over the futurity course. The Bagowan gelding was quoted at 5 to 1 and was badly handled by Riddel. Burning Bush without further challenging easily took place honors. The only chance Eddie Mott had to lose third place was by beating Burning Bush for second place which he is used to do.

Salnest was heart in the third and no mistake ... shooters ... to the ... having been backed from ... the post ... and the ... Sugarmaid the second choice at 4 to 1 breezed along in second place the entire journey. Lofty Heywood raced Yellow Tail into submission for the small slice of the purse. Responsful had the speed of the fifth race which was at a mile and seventy yards and the energetic pilotage of John Callighan he lasted long enough at the end to win by a head from Anna May which gave him a hard tussle at the end. Sir Angus closed resolutely to be third.

As a sequel to the trouble which resulted from the bidding up of Bonnie Bird by Ed White yesterday, C. P. Lamar was fined $100 by the stewards for ... the return of the run up money from White. The refusal of the latter to comply with his demand caused Lamar to claim Michael Angelo and caused considerable unpleasantness.

In a driving finish Quality Street took the closing race from Frank C. Hogan by half a length. Dorothy Hilda was a nose behind for the show. Both the winner and the second horse were held at equal choices in the betting at 16 to 5.

Jockey Riddle stepped into the limelight yesterday by bringing home two winners, Evran and Quality Street. Kederis, Ross ... Fischer and Callighan had the ... up on the other four winners.

LEAGUE HEADS TO GATHER SATURDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 5.—Not a hint of opposition to the re-election of President Thomas F. Graham and Secretary Long of the Coast League has cropped out and it is expected the meeting of the directors scheduled for Saturday will be brief and unexciting.

The officials will convene at the St. Francis hotel at 2 p.m. and it is expected that all will show up with the exception of Judge W. W. McCredie. Cal Ewing will cast a proxy vote for the Portland man if the Oregon man fails to show up.

Manager Danny Long and Cal Ewing and Frank Ish have set February ... as the first day of training for the Seals.

MODESTO CHOSEN

Modesto declared to be ideal for the work and near enough to San Francisco to allow the fans to take a run down and watch the men was chosen yesterday as the camping ground. Several games will be played with the Modesto ball team and several Irish outfits will be organized to give the Seals plenty of practice.

The Tacoma club is due to train at Fresno.

A surprise was sprung on the bunch here when Mohler and Long came to terms. The Kid to lead the Seals in the struggle for the bunting this year. Mohler's liking for work is said to have been the balm that healed the breach reported to have existed between player and manager.

The Oakland team will have a short training season according to the plans of Harry Wolverton who has suggested putting the boys on the diamond for the first time March 1. There are those of the wise ones however who declare there will be a change of mind when the manager arrives here. The Red Sox outfit is due here at about the same time the commuters are scheduled to begin training and the home bunch will have little chance with the visitors. Wolverton has written Walters that he will leave for the coast about February 15.

WILL SAVE MONEY

CINCINNATI, Jan 5.—The joint schedule committee of the National and American Leagues has just completed plans whereby both leagues will be saved many thousands of dollars in traveling expenses. President Barney Dreyfus of the Pittsburg club said yesterday that he hopes to save at least $2500 next year by the new arrangement and President Ban Johnson said before he left Cincinnati that the American League clubs can save almost $15,000 in the same manner. President Dreyfus said that last season the Pirates traveled 19,000 miles but that this year they will journey but 13,000 miles.

The schedule will be completed before the February meeting of the committee.

Experts in Dispute Over Raised Box

NEW YORK, Jan 5.—The agitation in baseball circles against the raised pitcher's box has become widespread and critics here in general agree that the abolition would improve batting. Pitcher Christy Mathewson's opinion of the proposed elimination of the mound is as follows:

While it would be as fair for one as another there is no question that the lowering of the box would take some of the kinks out of my ... pitching. If I am compelled to start the ... two feet lower naturally I would not get as much break on the ball ... the proposed rule would affect the ... ball pitcher ... It would help pitchers of underhand ... like ... Put ... there would be more ... hitting.

SENATOR BAILEY TO LEAVE RANKS OF HORSE BREEDERS

NEW YORK, Jan 5.—It is announced here that Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas has decided to sell his entire trotting horse breeding stud and will retire permanently from the ranks of breeders.

The announcement is made by his New York agents who have been authorized to sell his entire string of horses, about fifty head in all at public auction next month. The only horse which will not go under the hammer is the famous stallion Prodigal 2:16 now ... years old which the Senator has owned many years.

Senator Bailey gives lack of time and pressure of other business as the reason for his decision. The announcement came as a surprise to horsemen here.

The Senator is not the only leading man in public life interested in the American trotter as a practical breeder. He is rated as an authority on blood lines and scientific breeding and for many years has taken an active part in the improvement in the American light harness horse and the advancement of racing. He is president of the American Association of Trotting Horse Breeders.

HIGH SCORES MADE ON ALLEYS

The past week proved to be an extraordinary lucky one for local bowlers as never before were so many high scores made in any one week. The old year finished with unequaled records at the Oakland bowling alleys in Thirteenth street both in ten pins and duck pins.

The possible 300 score was almost tied by Shammel who rolled 297 in ten pins. This is the highest score bowled on these alleys for the last few years and will stand as a record outside of the few 300 scores rolled years ago.

MANY HIGH SCORES

The following high scores for the month of December are recorded:

Ten pins: Bates 24?, Rankin 259, Huff 210, Mrs. I. Travers ..., Lind, ..., Zobel ..., Fernycott 246, Schammel ..., Cross ...

Duck pins: Hurns 115, Mitchell 110, Keegan 116, Angell 110, Smith 130, Swenson 118, Lederman 117, Olson 109, Callhovey 115, Weber 1..., Courtney, 135.

Schammel won the prize offered by the management for December in ten pins and Courtney the same in duck pins.

TOURNEY COMING

Great interest is being manifested among the bowlers and many are getting in trim for the coming tournament which will be inaugurated about the middle of the month both for ten pins and duck pins.

The tournament will last about twelve weeks. It will take in outside of Oakland the towns of Richmond, Elmhurst, Fitchburg and Alameda. A meeting will be held some time this week when officers will be elected, particulars concerning the tournament discussed and a schedule of games adopted. It is expected that each town will enter at least three five men teams, both in ten and duck pins.

GOOD SCORES.

With the advent of the new year some good ones have been made and a good starter obtained. S. H. Bates bowled 214 in ten pins and Bill Rees opened the game with 1... in duck pins.

P. Dewey, W. Dewey, T. Green, J. Myall and R. Dixon started a little match game of duck pins New Year's day and created excitement. Four games were played and although no high scores were made steady bowling was the slogan of the contest. The score was a very close one, Green winning by only six pins with Dixon second by three pins, as the following official score will certify:

P. Dewey 85 81 8 76—330; T. Green, 78 74 70 101—32?; W. Dewey 70 75 84 83—31?; J. Myall 73 81 7? 81—30?; R. Dixon 81 89 73 80—23?

Councilman Vose Will Present New Proposition to the Council Tonight.

A rental of $25,000, to be paid to the city on the first day of each year a 25-year term, and the paying of Seventh street are included in a proposition that Councilman R. C. Vose will present to the city council tonight in the matter of the Seventh-street franchise.

With these the councilman will ask for a quit claim deed from the railroad to all rights on Seventh street that the corporation may have taken as its own.

Councilman Vose today declared that he believed it for the best interests of the city that the franchise be granted for only 25 years. He said he brought up the $225,000 rental proposition at Tuesday night's caucus of the council.

Want Minimum Speed Law for Livestock

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 5.—The plea of the American Humane Association for a minimum speed law for the transportation of livestock evoked strong approval at the convention of the National Wool Growers' Association and Dr. William O. Stillman, president of the Humane Association, whose address was read, was eulogized as a giant worker for good, whose efforts have been somewhat misunderstood. Henceforth Dr. Stillman shall have the full support of the wool growers. It was the consensus of opinion that "lofty sentiments of charity and mercy should supersede commercialism in the business world."

AWAIT ACTION OF NEW GOVERNOR

Speculation Rife at Capital Over Withdrawal of Appointees.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—Speculation is still rife over the withdrawal by Governor Johnson of several of the recent appointees made by Governor Gillett. In this list was W. E. Denhison of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners and the nomination of George M. Nell of Alameda in his place.

Among the Gillett appointments which Johnson withdrew were some to which the new administration has no objection on political grounds, such as that of Chester Rowell of Fresno, who Gillett reappointed as a member of the Board of University Regents. Such appointments as these, it is believed, will be made again by Governor Johnson on his own account.

Two of Gillett's late appointments on thewithdrawn list were those of David Starr Jordan and George V. Steed of San Francisco and Fish and Game Commissioners, and possibly one or both of them may not be reappointed by Johnson.

DEEP-SEATED COUGH CURED IN 5 HOURS

New Home-Made Syrup. From Boston Press.

Progress in medical compounds never ceases, and now it is stated by a prominent medical man that any deep-seated cough or cold on the lungs can be actually cured in five hours by the clock. Opium and morphine have been resorted to in the past, as relief measures. But now it is learned that the system must be treated to rid it of inflammation and congestion. A tonic laxative cough syrup does the work so quickly and thoroughly as to be almost magical. What heretofore has taken weeks to cure can be accomplished in hours. Get this formula filled or mix it at home and always keep it on hand: One-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Shake the bottle and take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day until the system is purified and toned up. Give your children less according to age. One filling will usually cure a whole family, as the dose is small.

IRREGULAR PRICES OPENED MARKET

Room Traders Sold Lists On Rallies in Wall Street.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—At the opening of the stock market prices moved irregularly and narrowly. Room traders sold the list on rallies and there was a disposition to take profits at opportune times. United States Steel, Reading and Union Pacific met considerable stock at various levels. Brisk buying of gas stocks sent them up, materially despite the depression elsewhere, and People's Gas gained 1.

Prices were working upward toward the end of the hour, when the shorts commenced to buy freely.

Following a slight recovery in the first hour, the market had fallen back again by noon, largely through lack of leadership. Prices were then generally below the previous day's close, the only notable exceptions in the active issues being Reading and Consolidated Gas.

There was pronounced heaviness in United States Steel and there was an inclination to connect it with recent events in the corporation's internal affairs.

Call money was in light demand at 5 per cent.

Bonds were irregular.

All the activity died out of the market in the afternoon, but there was a small advance which restored prices pretty generally to a parity with yesterday's final figures. There were isolated points of strength among the minor issues.

The market closed steady.

Fresh selling orders were distributed and the market ran off again despite a sharp rise in the local Traction securities. Reading and the other favorites were sold freely, but when supporting orders made their appearance the readiness with which the market rallied influenced the shorts to cover and losses were made up. Lackawanna sold at 534, compared with 526, its previous sale in November. National Railways of Mexico second preferred was bought heavily and rose over 2 points.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Gibson says: The buying yesterday was apparently of a good character and there is no sign of any important liquidation. There is a quiet story in the street, which appears to have some foundation in fact, that the member of the late bull pool who was wise enough to fold his tent and silently steal away near the top of the market is now picking up stocks. I cannot vouch for the truth of this story, but may know more about it in a day or two. I don't think the short interest is greatly decreased on this advance and the technical situation continues strong. May get some moderate reactions, but would continue to buy on all breaks of a point or two for the present. Consider wheat and corn a good purchase on every little reaction. Would sell March cotton at this level for a long pull and big profits.

TIME-LIMIT PUT ON POLICE CAPTAINS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—The captains of police in the nine precinct stations will have to purchase alarm clocks if necessary in order to make sure of their punctual appearance at their respective offices, according to an order handed down by Chief Seymour this morning.

Instead of having the captain report every morning at 9 o'clock to him as was formerly the custom, the mandate is that every captain must open his roller top desk at or before 9 a. m.

BULLISH TONE PREVAILS IN PIT

Diminishing Receipts Has Bad Effect On the Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Diminishing receipts, particularly in the northwest, had a bullish effect on the wheat market today, overcoming the influence of a decline in foreign quotations. The weather southwest was warmer but the absence of moisture favored promoters of higher prices. Cash demand was reported as increasing decidedly and many dealers were counting on the receipts continuing for some time. The opening was ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher. May started at 98c to 98⅛c, the same as last night, to ⅛c down, and rallied to 98⅜c.

The fact that offerings were light added to the feeling of firmness in wheat, which was largely based on the corn strength. Export sales in Winnipeg were reported. The close was 1¼@1⅜c net higher for May at 99⅜@99⅝c.

Complaints that Argentine rains came late or were insufficient caused strength in corn. Receivers reported farm sales small. Country feeders were good buyers. May opened a shade off to ⅛@¼c up at 48⅝c@49c, and rose to 49¼c.

Some cables reported the Argentine drop as practically lost. The close was steady with May ⅝c up at 48½@48⅝c.

Oats were in demand on account of the upturn in corn. May opened unchanged to 1-16c lower at 34@34⅛c, and advanced to 34¼@34⅜c.

Provisions at the outset were easy in consequence of a decline in the hog market. Purchases by stockyard firms, however, led to a recovery. First sales were unchanged to 7½c below last night, with May options at $18.62½ for pork, $10.07½ to $10.10 for lard and $9.76½ for ribs.

The closing quotations were as follows:

Wheat—January, 95½c; May, 99⅝@99⅝c; July, 95⅞c.

Corn—January, 48¼c; May, 49½@49⅝c; July, 50⅜@50½c; September, 51¼c.

Oats—May, 34¼@34⅝c; July, 34⅝@34⅝c; September 33⅝@33¾c.

Pork—May, $18.80.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The Inter Ocean says: Gossip on wheat last night favored the bull side on all breaks. Pit traders said that brokers, presumably working for Lichtern, had bought 750,000 bushels of May. It was said that prices were prevented from declining by support given by these houses; that the bull leader will not let prices decline much below present levels for some time to come; that their inclination is to work them irregularly higher. A number of the local professionals grew tired of the dragging wheat market and sold out at the close. Some of the most rampant bears said they were not advising short sales under present conditions, but admitted that they saw nothing of a legitimate character to make a permanent advance in the immediate future. Bulls were confident of their position notwithstanding the advance of 5c in November and of a bulge for three consecutive days, which they said was enough for the present. Traders who were in the corn pit all day said that Ware and Leland had bought more than any house. Geahart was credited with selling 500,000 May at 48⅝@48⅞c. Comstock, Valentine and a number of other local professionals also sold. Pit sentiment was more bearish. The bull interest which is also heavily loaded with wheat, picked up considerable corn on the break. Bear leaders said the market was heavily long and the leading holders will have a hard time to liquidate. At present, however, they are not disposed to sell, but are increasing their holdings owing to the decreased movement. Cash corn has not advanced in proportion to May, as the bad weather and rough country roads have checked farmers' deliveries.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 5.—Broomhall says: The wheat market at the opening was firm, with lighter offerings, due to American steadiness in the face of more favorable weather in the wheat belt and for rest of light shipments from Argentine this week and values were ⅛d higher. Following the opening there was a decline of ⅛d to ⅜d on the free selling here by a prominent firm. La Plate parcels were 6d lower and there was a decline in the Buenos Ayres future market at the close. There was a quiet general demand, especially from the continent. Just before midday there was some disposition to cover and March gained ⅛d from the low. At this time the market generally was easy and ⅛d lower than yesterday. Corn opened steady and unchanged. Following the opening La Plate grade remained steady on reports that rains in Argentine were insufficient. The American grade declined ⅛d on expectations of large arrivals of American corn here.
